A Large Delegation Visits the Prince.

He Makes a Little Speech that is Applauded in an Enthusi-

Occasion—Emperor William to be a Guest at Friedrichsruhe-Reichstag.

FRIEDRICHSRUHE, March 25 .- (By Atlantic Cable.) Three special trains having on board 400 members of the Reichstag and received at the station by a deputation headed by Count Herbert Bismarck. They were taken to the castle front, where the were received in a body by Prince Bis-

Upon reaching the garden, the guests proceeded to the rear of the house, where there is a large balcony. Prince Blamarch accompanied by his sons, his daughter and his son-in-law, all in deep mourning, appeared on the terrace and were received with loud cheers by the visitors below Spokesmen from the several branches of the Legislature made speeches, briefly conveying the fervent hope that Prince Bis marck would long be spared to enjoy his vell-earned repose.

The aged ex-Chancellor paused, manicesting intense emotion, with tears in his eyes, as his thoughts reverted to the past. His listeners were deeply affected as they stood silently for fully half a ninute, waiting for him to proceed. When he spoke again he said: "Above all I must share it with my"—a long pause—"Em-peror William of blessed memory." This remark of the Prince was greeted with prolonged applause. When quiet had been restored, Bismarck said:

"What could I have done without him and his army? I should have remained in the same swamp that the leaders of all former national efforts encountered who were actuated by errors in that they ignored the power of German sovereignty and dynasty.. From the best view that was an error. Our dynasties are, thank land, and this is especially the case with the great military force which the King of Prussia undoubtedly has the power to place at the service of the national will. That was my endeavor, when I, in the capacity of Ambassador to Franfort, observed the state of the political situation. We, therefore, are indebted to the old Emperor and his allies far more than any minister or chancellor could have done for us. If the treaties signed by the Federal government had not borne their signature (Loud cheers.) We have fought to such an extent that the dogs have licked the blood of the slain, yet we now shake hands and march together with the enemies of our country This is the way our dynasties acted as compared with our party factions. I hope you will take a lesson therefrom. As long we are able to reckon upon this national sentiment, we need have no fear of our being involved in difficulty which may arise from party division."

arise from party division."

After speaking for some time of German politics Bismarck paused and said:
"Gen'demen, I could say much more if I were strong and rough. I am a weary old man. (Loud cries of 'No, no,') I am grateful for your patient attention and still more for the honor you have shown me. I regret that I am not in a position to work with you in Parliament, (cries of to work with you in Parliament, (cries of 'Not as much as we do;') but I am not strong enough to stand the conflicts of life in Berlin. (Much laughter.) In many ects I have become old, but at the time I have obtained comfort and desire to close my life in the house I mow inhabit, but my thoughts perhaps are more with you than is fit for a map of my age. (Cries of 'No.') I cannot sud-denly abandon all my old thoughts simply because I have grown old and em in bad heafth. You have not forsaken me and I cannot give better expression to feeling than I have inspired by requesting you to continue to think of the Empire, even in the Prussian Diet, and to not forget when the Prussian Diet, and to not forget when there that you are guarantees for the Empire, and that the King is also your Emperor and has duties toward the Empire and toward the Federal States. Remember also that you must help him to execute not only a policy for Brardenburg, or Prussia, but also an imperial German policy. With this thought I beg of you to join me in cheers for His Majesty. Long live His Majesty, the Emperor and King."

The toast was received with thunders of applause, and when the enthusiasm subsided three cheers were given for Prince Bismarck, who, in response, said: "Gentlemen, I thank you for the honor you to the matter will be tested in the courts.

have done me. I thank you again and again, and wish that I could give you all a bed, but I was obliged to take this bouse as I found it, and I never thought I should ent that for a loving pair there the sentiment that for a loving pair there is room enough in the smallest cottage. (Great laughter,) since there is not room enough here for 400 of my fellow-countrymen, when all love each other."

This happy response from the old Chan-cellor, whese eyes were now twinkling with merriment, was greeted with the loudest and most prolonged applause.

The crowd then gave three tremendous "hochs" for Prince Bismarck. Then the latter led the cheers for the Emperor, which were enthusiastically given. At the who recently resigned the presidency of East Prussia, proposed Bismarck's health in a short speech. The special train re-turned to Berlin at 3:30 p.m.

Emperor William is expected here to visit Bismarck tomorrow and a brilliant military suite will accompany him. Bis-marck received the deputations today, despite the unceasing warmings of his physi-cian, Dr. Schweininger, and his secretary, Dr. Chrysander, and he will practically celebrate his eightleth birthday with the whole of the German people. The desire to testify their love and admiration of the the Nicaragua Canal Debt. NEW YORK, March 25.—An opinion was handed down by Judge Lacombe is United States Circuit Court advising Chablo, receiver for the Nicaragua Construction Company, as to the disposi-tion of the $65,000 claim of the Manhattan Trust Company, which was the only part of a $5,000,000 collateral bond issue au-thorized before the failure of the company. The receiver asked the court for instructions as to whether the bond-holders were entitled to rank as creditors of the reorganized company and whether the bonds, not being matured, were entitled to a dividend. Judge Lacombe decided both questions in the affirmative. He, however, advises the receiver to lay aside the dividend in some trust company for the present, for future disposition by the company.

A KENTUCKY HERO. He Saves a Trainload of Passengers from Death. FRANKPORT (Ky.,) March 25.-M. Allen, agent of the Kentucky Midland at a lonely country station near here, showed himself a hero today. A thirty-foot high trestle over a creek was set on fire by sparks from an engine. Allen was in-formed of the fire by a little girl. He ran a distance of 300 yards to the trestle and was in the center of it when he diccovered a train approaching. His only chance was to jump, which he quickly concluded to do. He swam safely to show and flagged the train just in time to save the lives of the trainmen and passengers.

Bribery Was Charged.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Judge Rain today dismissed the suit to have the Ogden Gas and Cosmopolitan Electric ordinances declared void, on the ground that private parties could not legally secure an injunction restraining the city from carrying out a contract with the companies. Direct charges of bribery have been made in court against aldermen who voted for them. The decision leaves the mattr open to action by the Attorney-general of the State.

They say that yesterday they came upon a party of men putting off in a boat to a yacht which was standing to, about a mile off the coast. The beatmen were greatly excited by the appearance of the hunters and rowed rapidly to the vessel. Through a glass the hunters saw boxes hoisted up the vessel's side.

When all the boxes had been transferred the men clambered up the yacht's side and she steamed away south. The hunters and she steamed away south. The hunters began an investigation and soon found signs of a camp in the scrub and also recent excavations. They dug into the sand and unearthed a long box which was found to be full of rifles and machetes. They brought some of these arms here. The place where the discovery was made is a lonely spot on the east coast where, but for the accident, a cargo of arms might be loaded without interference. It is supposed these arms were shipped here by rail and secretly transferred to the place where the vessel was seen. It is not believed that this government en object to the creation of a committee of fair complexion to ascertain and find damages sustained by British subjects in Nicaragua, and the Issue appears to have narrowed down to the demand of an indemnity of £75,000 for the expulsion of Hatch, the British consular agent at Bluefields.

There is already a disposition to examine into the matter further and ascertain whether the Nicaraguan government did not act entirely within its right in expelling the consular agent. It was charged by the Nicaraguans that Hatch, who was not a diplomatic officer, and so could claim no exemption on that score, took an active part in the political turmoil at Bluefields, and did much to secure the overthrow of the Nicaragua government in the town and the reinstatement of Chief Clarence. If this were true, then, under ordinary conditions, there would be little doubt of the right of the Nicaraguan covernment to expel him from the country. The death of the third daughter, Frances, adds another chapter to a pathetic family history. The Bailey family was one of the best-known in that city. The parents tool especial pride in their daughters and gave them every advantage in the way of edu-cation. They were excellent musicians and their beauty attracted general attencation. They were excellent musicians, and their beauty attracted general attention.

The death of the first of the daughters is said to have broken her father's heart so that he died shortly afterward. Her name was Edna. It was several years ago when the roller-skating craze had spread to every hamlet in the United States. Edna fell in love with a professional roller-skater and eloped with him.

One morning about a year ago she was found dead in her room in a Grand Rapids boarding-house. She had taken morphine. She was 29 years old. Her remains were shipped to Allegan and interred there. Six months later her father was laid by the side of his favorite daughter. The people in Allegan say he grieved himself to death. For some time after the father's death the three daughters remained at home, but their poverty was their curse, and only a few months after her sister's death Grace, the youngest daughter, eloped with an actor. She was 25 years old. She drifted to Chicago and February 23 was found dead in her room, No. 437 Clark street. She had taken morphine. Her remains were shipped to Allegan and once more the people there saw the family go to the cemetery and watched Grace laid away by the side of her sister and father.

The Health Officer is Much Concerne About the Matter—A Deputy is Sent After the Guilty

Bu Telegraph to The Times. NEW YORK, March 25.—(Special Dispatch.) Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle came to Quarantine early last Saturday morning and boarded the American line steamer Paris. William Carlisle and the American State of the American State of the American State of the State o K. Carlisle, son of the secretary, was passenger on board. Before the visit of the deputy health officer, who was busy clearing the vessels that had accumulated at Quarantine during the preceding night, revenue cutter Hudson, with the Secretary and his son, left the steamer's side and and his son, left the steamer's side and proceeded to the city.

The deputy health officer reported this violation of quarantine law to Health Officer Doty as soon as his morning's work was finished, Doty, when asked about the matter, said: "My deputy, Dr. L. Hommedieu, reported the fact to me that a revenue cutter had removed a passenger of the Paris without waiting for his inspection. I called the attention of the collector of the port to the matter on Saturday, and am now expecting a reply, I think the whole fault lies with the custom-house inspector in charge of the party tom-house inspector in charge of the party on the cutter, who certainly should, and I believe does, know the law for such cases."

It is plain that Carlisle, his son, Charle S. Hamlin, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Custom Department; Surveyor of Port Maguire and Capt. Wilkins, of the Paris, have made themselves liable to a term of one year in State prison or a fine of $2000, or both. It is not yet certain whether they will be prosecuted, but it is probable that their prominence will save them. Of all health regulations governing the port of New York, those most rigidly enforced relate to the taking off of any passenger of a ship from a foreign port before the ship has been boarded by the Health Officer or his deputy, and has offi-cially been passed through quaraitine. Such act is a plain defiance of the law. Dr. Doty, the Health Officer, was much wrought up by it. An officer started post-haste for Jersey City to detain the party, but the train bearing the Secretary and his son had started before he got there Dr. Doty also wrote a letter to the officer kins, notifying them of the violation of the law, and their liability to fine and imprisonment for permitting the occur

CHICAGO, March, 25.—A special from Grand Rapids, Mich., says that the case of off and the brain cavity almost empty is agitating the surgeons of Grand Rapids and vicinity. A week ago Charles Olsen attempted to board a moving train but missed his footing and fell under wheels. His head was crushed so over half of the brains fell out and over half of the brains fell out and when the injured man was picked up it was supposed that he was dead. Arrangements were made for the funeral, but just before the coffin was closed, the undestaker no-ticed a movement in the supposed dead man's eyelids, and had the body taken out of the casket and placed in bed. Sur-geons were called and they declared that Olsen was not dead, but simply in a state of coma.

Frances Bailey, who was found dead, ran away from her home with a traveling salesman. She was 23 years old. She, too, came to Chicago after she had been deserted. In the letter which she left to her sister, Mrs. King, she said that as her two sisters had ended their lives she thought best to end her troubles in a similar manner.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Chairman Caldwell has handed down a decision in regard to the basis of half-fare rates for clergymen and rallway employes from the Missouri River to Colorado common points. The ruling was called for by a peculiar condition existing west of the river. The seneral understanding has been that the basing of rate should be the highest regular first-class unlimited fare.

By some lines this rate from Omaha to Colorado Springs is $21.05; by others, $18.15, while the limited rate on all times is $17. To put all the lines on an equality the chairman decided that the regular limited first-class rate of $17, which is the highest rate common to all times interested, should be the basis for computing half-fares, unless the lines interested reach some other agreement by themselves.

GERMANS FAVOR A BIMETALLIC STANDARD.

Strong Reasons for So Doing-England Will not Cut a Big Figure at the Forthcoming Conference.

NEW YORK, March 25 .- A special from Berlin to the World says that a number of prominent German officials have been interviewed on the subject of the forthcom-ing International monetary conference. They are practically unanimous in the belief that action favorable to silver will be taken by Germany, France and the United States, and a majority say that the posi-tion of England is immaterial. In speak-ing of England several said that, though ebery ministry would soon be displaced by a Conservative cabinet, the friends of the double standard largely base their expectations of international bimetallism on the ground that it is the only thing that can relieve the distressed agriculturists of Germany.

Prince Hohenlohe, the imperial Chancellor, said: "The united governments of the German States will, by my recommendation, make a careful inquiry into the matter. As to the proposed monetary conference, I am being followed with confidence to its results, in order that this vexatious question may at least end in a solution satisfactory to all countries which have suffered from the monetary calamittes of the last few years. Much has been put before the representatives of the different German States, collectively and individually. As to the place where the conference is to be held, I presume that many of our people would slike to see it held in Berlin. But I think that their views will hardly preponderate."

Count Mirbach, one of the leaders of the Conservative party, said: "As soon as Germany can secure the co-operation of the powers mainly interested, negotiations to that effect are now going on, then the conference will be held wherever and whenever practicable. There is a possibility that the date of the conference will be intentionally put off somewhat in order to secure the good will of England, where it seems that the days of the anti-sliver rob-bery government are counted.

seems the good will of England, where it seems that the days of the anti-silver robbery government are counted.

"The question how the Cerman government will approach the question of universal bimetallism is not easily answered. A strong and firm hand is wanted in our monetary policy here. It is my firm conviction that the power of facts will force the government to help pave the way for the fealization of international bimetallism in some form or other. Eventually, I say, because some powers will be forced into it against their will. Elimetallism in Germany is not any longer a currency question, but a universal, national, economic one. It stands close to the, at present, most important problem of the German inner-policy, viz., the salvation and maintenance of German agriculture."

sitting in readiness to receive it.

The Legislature was crowded with an intensely earnest gathering when the important document was delivered. It was voluminous and reviewed all the evidence taken before the Privy Council of England, which body declared that the Catholics of Manitoba had a grievance and that the Governor-General in council had the power and substitute of the private pri the power and authority to grant redress by a remedial order. The tenor and lan-guage of the order leaves no opening for ernor-General, or, more accurately speaking, the Dominion government will enforce its authority. ing, the bominion government will enforce its authority. No definite action was taken tonight.

After the order had been read it was laid on the table for future consideration. That the order will be rejected may be taken for certain. Of the forty members of the Legislature only four or five will yote against the rejection, these four or five being Catholics and representing purely Catholic constituencies.

Premier Greenway, being interviewed tonight, said: "We desire to act with the Constitution, but let all people know that this trouble is not of our own making. We claim the right to make our own laws, and this right we will not give up without a struggle. The Governor-General's order will be rejected in its entirety. A long step will then have been made in the perilous journey upon which the government of Ottawa has set out. The Domainon Parliament will then be armed with jurisdiction to impose upon Mankoba a law to which an overwheiming majority of its people are opposed. It will be wise for Parliament, as Mr. Gladstone said, to think once, to think twice, think thrice, before coercing a loyal and lawabiding community. Few in numbers though they may be, they will never submit to this unjust coercion. This is a struggle for our rights. We are a free people. We will not be made slaves. We will not have the laws which we have passed deliberately, and with a full knowledge of our own conditions, destroyed by a body to whom these conditions are un-passed deliberately, and with a full knowledge of our own conditions, destroyed by a body to whom these conditions are unknown, acting without inquiry and without adequate consideration."

A sensation feature of the trouble today was the announcement tha the Dominion Cabinet, which has just passed the remedial order, had appointed one of its members, Hon. H. A. Chaiterson, Minister of Mihitia, to take the place of Premier Greenway. This change is believed by the Manitoba government to be that the Dominion authorities want a man as Governor more pliable to their wishes.

In support of this proposition they asserted that without statutory au-thority from Congress the government could maintain no such bill, and no such authority could be found, unless it be in the act of 1890, known as the Sherman anti-trust act, but they contended that this anti-fruet act, but they contended that this fact was unconstitutional because, involving proceedings in chancery in such cases, it deprived the defendants, under the penal statute, of the right of trial by jury, contrary to the sixth amendment to the Continuation.

trary to the sixth amendment to the Constitution.

It was 12:40 o'clock when the case was called, and Mr. Trumbull addressed the court in support of a motion gade by himself that counsel be heard in behalf of the petitioners, and that they be allowed three hours for the presentation of that side of the case. The motion was granted, and three hours were allowed on each side. Trumbull then proceeded with his argument on the merits of the case, outlining the points as above set forth. It has been a long while since Trumbull appeared in the court, but he was recognized immediately, and there were many favorable comments upon his hale and venerable appearance. He spoke without notes and confined himself closely to the facts and arguments set forth in the brief of the petitioners.

He characterized the proceedings as extraordinary and the statements in the bill of equity as relentless. He declared the statements made in it had only been sworn to by an unknown person, a man who, for aught he knew, had been picked up on the street for the purpose.

road of the stockyard company was only a local road, but did not question that some of the twenty-two roads entered in the bill were engaged in an interstate traffic. He contended that the primary objects of the A. R. U. was to bring about a peaceful adjustment of the difficulties between the Pullman company and its employees and said this was praiseworthy. Furthermore, he declared that the object would have been accomplished but for the refusal of the Pullman officials to grant any concessions. He said that it was an insult to every intelligent citizen to say, as was said in the bill, that it was as necessary to carry the Pullman sleepers as it was to carry the mail. He also argued the right of the rafiroad and Pullman employees to quit work when they chose and criticised the language of the bill in characterizing this action on their part as a boycott.

acterizing this action on their part as a boycott.

Trumbull also took exception to the use of the word conspiracy, as used in the bill, declaring that the purpose of the strikers was that of preventing the hauling of sleeping-cars and not that of preventing the transportation of mails, or of interfering with interstate commerce. The great question was, he said, whether a court of equity had jurisdiction in a case of the character of the one under consideration, and proceeded to argue the constitutional bearing on the question. He did not believe it competent for Congress to confer upon courts of equity jurisdiction in any but equity cases and he insisted that Congress had never undertaken to confer such prerogatives. The present case involved a criminal offense. Had ever a case occurred when a court of equity had attempted to restrain a citizen from committing a criminal act—burglary or murder, for instance? If the petitioners had been guilty as charged they should have proceeded against them in the regular manner by indictment and trial by jury.

He took issue with the contention that have proceeded against them in the regular manner by indictment and trial by jury.

He took issue with the contention that the constitutional provision for the regulation of commerce between the States gave authority for such a proceeding in this equity, but declared this was entirely contrary to the holding of the court, in support of which position he quoted various authorities, but even iff this was correct, the present case was one entirely confined to the State of Illinois.

Continuing, Trumbull declared the Supreme Court of the United States had been overwhelmed with cases growing out of a strained construction of the Constitution, and he thought it time to call a hait. He contended that the anti-trust bill had no bearing on the case of an association of railway employees, but was intended to prevent combinations, corporations and trusts, which was made evident by the fact that provision was made for the seizure of property. He also asserted the injunction in the case had been issued without notice except to the newspapers. If this was true it was in defance of Con-fact that provision was made for the selizure of property. He also asserted the injunction in the case had been issued without notice except to the newspapers. If this was true it was in defiance of Congress and it was not to be supposed that everybody was to be compelled to read newspapers. He urged in conclusion that Debs and his associates were illegally imprisoned and asked for their release.

Asst.-Gen. Whitney followed on behalf of the government. He thought that when the question should be ascertained there would be very little difficulty in arriving at a decision. He did not suppose the court would find it necessary to go into the general question of strikes and boycotts which was an untrodden field for the Supreme Court and involved points on which the courts and the text-writers, so far as they had dealt with the matter, were divided. It was therefore unnecessary to consider whether the anti-trust law applies to conspiracies of the kind in which Debs and his associates were engaged. The case was a peculiar one, in that none of the parties to the present case was engaged in the Chicago strike as employees of any of the roads. They had organized for the purpose of boycotting the Pullman company and in doing that proceeded to paralyze the radiroad companies, which they were doing when the injunction was issued. The main object of the organization was to secure entire control of the railroads of the country. He dwelt on the great injury done by the strike, which injury, he said, was irreparable, and asked that the count take cognizance of this fact as it was conceded to paralyse the radiroad companies, which they were doing when the injunction was issued. The main object of the organization was to secure entire control of the radiroad companies, which they were doing when the injunction was instead in jury done by the strike, which injury, he said, was irreparable, and asked that the count take cognizance of this fact as it was conceded on all hands. There could hardly be a question that the United States

Yet, he contended that the situation was one which called for the interference of the government subporties. He size contended

The article to the applicability of the anti-trust law to such a combination as that formed by Debs and the other parties to the present proceeding, with a literal construction of the law, could lead to no other conclusion. He urged, in conclusion, that this case had only been brought to the Supreme Court on appeal after the final decision of the case was one in which it was proper to invoke the aid of an equity court to the government authorities. He also contended that the situation was one likely and the case was one in which it was proper to invoke the aid of an equity court to the case was one in which it was proper to invoke the aid of an equity court to the case was one in which it was proper to invoke the aid of an equity court to the case was one in which it was proper to invoke the aid of an equity court to which the support invoke the aid of an equity court to invoke the aid of an equity court to invoke the aid

Gregory opened his argument with reference to the question as to whethe "the information" in the case was properly before the court, and he urged that th case was not one for too close as the matter was one involving the liberty of citizens. It seemed to be a dangerous power to commit to a single magistrate that he might imprison without regard to the facts or the law, and that there could be no appeal to the Supreme Court. He contended that Debs and his associates had not been enjoined from "ordering a strike," which was what they had been guilty of, if guilty at all.

Regarding the jurisdiction of the court below, Gregory contended there was none, because no federal statute had been submitted under which the case could be considered there, except the anti-trust law, and he characterized the effort to proceed under this law as "a kind of judicial strabism." as the matter was one involving the liberty strabism."

He regarded it as significant that the government had virtually abandoned this law as a ground of proceeding. Continuing, he asserted that the English Chancery courts had never undertaken to enjoin the obstruction of railroads owned by private corporations, nor had there been such a proceeding in any of our State courts. In reality this was a proceeding to punish for conspiracy by an equity court, and such a course was not allewable in advance of Congressional enactment. Until such enactment he had called upon the court to prevent it. the court to prevent it.

Walker asserted the right of the United States to invoke the aid of an equity court

Walker asserted the right of the brites States to invoke the aid of an equity court to suppress a nuisance, and therefore such a court had jurisdiction in this case. He referred briefly to the condition of affairs in Chicago when the appeal was made to the Circuit Court, which was, he said, for the protection of the mails and interstate commerce issuafnee of writs to enjoin such interference. He defended the right of the government to invoke protection of the interests in a court of equity, asserting that such a course is authorized both by the statutes and the decision of the courts. He based his argument largely upon the provisions of the interstate commerce act and upon the right of the government to protect the mails. Walker concluded with the adjournment of the court at 4 o'clock, leaving only two arguments still to be made, that Atty-Gen. Olney for the Government, and Darrow for the petitioners.

When Mrs. Owen's husband died in 1884 he left her 240 acres of land near the Twelve-mile House, worth $50,000. The late D. S. Payne was Mrs. Owen's attorney, and when, in 1891 a man named Goodrich, falled to complete the purchase of 135 acres of land for $28,000, Attorney Payne assumed Goodrich's obligations. Now comes the news that the estate, part of which belonged to the Baroness by right, is in the process of settlement, and that it will shortly be ready for distribution.

The information came in a letter from Berlin, and Capt. JACK MARTIN'S SEAT.

The Fire Commissioner Will not Surrender to Colin Boyd.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—There is SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—There is going to be a pretty fight when Colin M. Boyd attempts to take his seat as Fire Commissioner. "Jack" Martin, whom Boyd has been appointed to succeed, declares empflatically that he will not quietly surrender his seat, and that Boyd will have to obtain a legal decision in his favor before he can begin to set in his farove to obtain a legal decision in his favore before he can begin to act.

This contest of Martin, however, will differ from previous contests for State offices, in that the Commissioner who is about to precipitate it will not have the support of his associates in the board.

Commissioners' McDonald and Bohen embettedly force the support of the supp phatically favor the substitution of Boyd for Martin, and will vote to seat the former, while it is generally understood that Edwards will pose as Martin's friend. While many stories are being in the control of the c while many stories are being circulated in explanation of Martin's removal, the true cause is probably found in the charges of political partisanship that were recently preferred against him.

The Fire Underwriters May Discrimi nate Against Companies.

nate Against Companies.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—In the United States Circuit Court this morning Judge McKenna rendered a decision in the injunction proceedings brought by the Continental Insurance Company against the Board of Fire Underwiters of the Pacific Coast. The decision is against the Continental Company, and holds that the board of underwriters is a legal body, and that its members had the right to say they would not do business with companies not members of the union.

The only point of decision favoring the plaintiff is that regarding the action of the San Jose agent of the combine, who advertised that he would cancel any Continental policies brought to him. The court holds that the combine had no right to give a public notice to this effect.

THE STRIKERS' TRIAL.

Evidence as to the Existence of the "Octopus."

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—At th SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—At the trial of strikers Mayne and Cassidy in the United States District Court to day, the government gained permission to prove the corporate emistence of the Southern Pacific Company of Kentucky, Gerrit Lansing, secretary and controller of the Southern and Central Pacific, was a witness for this purpose.

Under cross-evamination, Lansing remembered telegrams sent by H. J. Smail, superintendent of motive power, to all workshops, which said: "Close up your shops and shut down on everything." Asked how it was possible to move trains with the motive power gone, he said he did not know. The attorney for the detense called Eugene V. Dbs to show the origin of the strike and who was to blame for it, but the court would not allow Debs to testify.

DREW ON NOTHING.

A San Jose Mining Man Arrested or False Pretenses.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—A warrant was sworn out in Judge Joachimson's court today for the arrest of C. G. Stock-ton, a mining man from San Jose. The complaining witnesses are Sullivan &

Doyle, livery-stable keepers.

A few d ys ago Stockton called at their stables and hired a rig. In payment he statics and aired a rig. In payment he handed them a check for $83, drawn by Baldwin Wilkins on a bank in San Jose. He explained that he and Witkins had a joint account at the bank. They cashed the check and sent it on for collection. It was returned marked "No account." Now Sullivan & Doyle want Stockton arrested for forgery and obtaining money by false preteness.

PHILLIPS'S PERSONALLY CONDUCTION.

That Poisoning Case.

Mr. Henderson, father of the boy who died of poison after eating a cake given him by Mrs. O'Hara, called on Coroner Campbell Monday morning and requested that he hold a post-mortem examination on the body of his little son to ascertain more definitely the kind of poison that caused his death. The Coroner referred Hancerson to the District Attorney, but as Mrs. O'Hara, the person accused of the poisoning, had an examination and was acquitted, it is not probable that any further action will be taken in the case.

SANTA MONICA.

Water for Ranch Lands-Matters Local Interest.

SANTA MONICA, March 25.—(Special Correspondence.) There was a meeting held here Saturday afternoon at which the proposition of organizing an irrigation district, under provisions of the Wright act, by which water might be taken from Spillman's suburban system and put upon something like 15,000, acres of lands immediately surrounding the town was discussed. The meeting was attended by a number of interested property-holders, but it was no further than to take up preliminary questions. It seems upon survey that there is some question as to the practicability of putting water on all the land concemplated. The proposition includes bonds to the extent of $60 per acre for the lands reached, and a considerable expense for MONICA, March 25.-(5 reached, and a considerable expensions piping even at that. Of course abut water at $60 an acre is not a form water at 360 an acre is not a formidable undertaking, but that sum on anything less than certain results is. A petition-was signed by several interested parties whose object is to bring the matter before the Supervisors and further investigations will follow.

Gestry, formerly of this place, now of North Ontarlo, has just been, granted an increase of pension from $17 to $50 per month, upon an application made through the Santa Monica firm of Tanner & Taft. Contrary to the usual experience in pension matters this claim received very prompt attention. It was withal a thoroughly meritorious one.

He stated that the week had opened with nominally no business, except what might be termed local shipments, and an occasional carload order from the East. He also was of the opinion that there would be no re-vival for at least several weeks; that inquiries and offers to buy by persons in the owners of oranges at this end of the line, however, he thought that in the end, the however, he thought that in the end, the growers would get their figures, and that a brisk movement would then ensue.

BREAKFAST BREADS. Flapjacks and Muffins Talked About

at the Cooking School. Mrs. Ewing gave a lesson on breakfast breads yesterday afternoon, and demon-strated to the class in cookery the most feathery muffins, crisp popovers and lus-cious French pancakes ever eaten, as well as the corncakes, which took the prize at the World's Fair.

She strives to inculcate the underlying principles of the proper preparation of food into the minds of her class, instead of giving them a multitude of formulas.

Yesterday, after the statement of a few general principles, Mrs. Ewing proceeded to the manufacture of some particularly toothsome popowers, into the composition of which she put one cup of flour, the same quantity of milk and one egg, which was put into the batter without beating. The whole mixture was then whisked energetically with an egg-beater, spooned out into cold muffin pans, which had been brushed with melted butter, and baked in an oven heated as for bread-baking.

The famous cornbread consists simply of cornmeal, water and salt, but in Mrs. Ewing's hands these materials are evolved into the most delicious "hoe cake" that ever graced a darkey's happiest dreams. Some more muffins followed, and French pancakes, and the class put them all to the

A DOUBLE-ENDER JOKE.

A telegram from Atlanta, Ga., tells of a "joke on the Atlanta police" which appears to be a sort of two-edged affair. It seems that a newspaper reporter, desiring to test the acumen of the Atlanta police force, took pictures of Dr. A. Conan Doyle and Eugen

Field to the police officials for the os tensible purpose of securing expert opinions as to the characters of the two men. The result was somewhat surprising, not to say amusing, and it is very evident from the opinions expressed by the officers that if either

Detective Barrett said of Field: "That He's probably a safe-cracker, and as dead tough a fellow as can be found. The other fellow's a confidence man." Capt. Thompson said: "If they strike this town, they will be arrested sure. We are laying for that kind of people."

Sergt. Slaughter thought the one with the mustache, Doyle, was a smart one, with some confidence racket. Field he thought an all-round crook, and emphasized his judg ment by adding: "You know, we car tell a good deal by a man's face."

Detective Ed Casin declared that he Capt. Joiner, who is an aspirant for the position of Chief of Police, dis-played his wisdom by declaring Doyle a confidence man and Field a sneak thief. Detective Shackelford had an

Of course, the expert opinions of these officials are "away off." Of course these officers are no judges of physiognomy, and can't tell a tough-light. Their misjudgment of the angelic countenance of 'Gene Field is particularly off color, and the fact that he is bald-headed is certainly not corroborative proof of his general cussedness, for there are many great and good men whose heads are as smooth and shiny as 'Gene's. It is a well-known fact that 'Gene is the most innocent and guileless man on the North American continent. A man who cannot tell the difference between a jack-rabbit and a mountain lion is hardly such stuff as deen-dyed villains are made of. Nevertheless, the joke is not altogether on the At-

BISMARCK.

There are more ways of killing a man than by hanging him. A stout hempen cord, properly adjusted, can generally be relied on for safe work, but overdoses of kinduess, frequently administered, will beat the rope all to pieces. Prince Bismarck has for many years successfully defied the evil doing of his enemies, but it tooks now as if he would have to go down before the over-zealous at tentions of his friends. Although the old statesman's eightieth birthday is still a week away, his admirers have started in to make his declining days a burden by showering on him dele gations, congratulations, commiserations and innumerable other intlic tions. One can already hear the old man crying out in heartfelt prayer to merciful heaven: "Save me from my

A VICIOUS MEASURE.

Some very weighty responsibilities were dumped upon Gov. Budd by the Legislature, in the form of ill-considered or vicious legislation. Among the bills of the latter class is the so-called Street Railroad Bill, (A. B. No. 702. which is now in the Governor's bands for signature. This measure amends 499, which, as amended in 1891, reads as follows:

"Two lines of street railway, operunder different managements be permitted to use the same street, each paying an equal portion for the construction of the tracks and appurtenances used by said railways jointly; but in no case must two lines of street railway, operated under dif-ferent managements, occupy and use the same street or tracks for a dis tance of more than five blocks con

The bill passed by the Legislature at its latest session amends the above section by inserting after the word "construction" the words "and mainance." With this amendment no fault can be found, as each company should bear an equal portion of the cost of maintaining any and all tracks used jointly. But there is a further amendment which consists in the omission of the word "consecutively" at the end of the paragraph. This omission, it is apparent, limits the atreets which may be used jointly by roads under different managements to total distance of five blocks in the entire city. Aside from the manifest absurdity of such a provision, its Fross injustice is obvious. It would practically shut out a competing company from the principal streets of a city, giving a monopoly to an existing road which already occupied such streets. The omission of the word "consecutively" was evidently designed to accomplish that result.

In 1891, it is alleged, the electric railway company now operating in this city, procured the amendment to sec. 499 of the Civil Code, as quoted above. Under it the company was enabled to parallel the lines of the cable company which had invested some $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 here, and eventually to drive the company to the wall, acquiring its franchise and equipment at figure much below the original cost. Now the Consolidated Electric Railway Company occupies a large proportion of the principal streets of the city, and naturally desires to shut cut competition. Hence the bill passed at the last session, omitting the word "consecutively," and thus limiting the distance for joint occupancy to a total of five blocks in an entire city.

The effect of this measure, !f approved by the Governor, would be to shut out other possible railroad enter-prises and extensions in Los Angeies, y preventing the joint use of principal streets by roads under different management, except to the extent of five blocks for the entire city.

tate, including the Stanford University property, was appraised at $17,000,000, the success of the suit and the cost of defending it would wipe out the entire property and leave the university in the position of a vagrant, "without visible means of support." The latter part of the result might be regretted by some, but it is no justification of robbery to plead that the thief gave away some of his ill-gotten gains to a worthy object. The money and lands donated by Stanford to the university were not his to give. They properly belong to Having obtained all it wanted under the law so amended in 1891, the company now desires that the bridge be burned behind it, to prevent possible competitors from crossing over. It rests with Gov. Budd to the people. It is to be hoped the courts will so rule, and that a like decision will be made in regard to what was wrongfully taken by Huntington, Hopkins and Crocker for the building up of their own fortunes."

THE PHILBROOK BILL.

Speaking of the evils and dangers of the Philbrook bill, designed take away from California courts the power to protect themselves from in-sult, which passed both branches of the Legislature, the Sacramento Rec ord-Union modestly says:

none of the press, save that of this city, pointed out these evils and dangers before the bill passed. The Record-Union and its local contemporaries really stood alone in protest against the massure. They alone at against the measure. They alone di-rected attention to the fact that an essential to the integrity of the courts is the power to discipline the officers of the court, and to preserve respect for its decrees by the exercise of the power to punish for contempt."

The Record-Union must have been very careless reader of The Times if it failed to observe that this paper repeatedly pointed out the iniquitous character of the bill, pending its passage. If approved by the Governor this wretched piece of sand-lot leg islation will render a judge helpless to preserve order in his own court and will allow attorneys who may hereafter be guilty, as was Philbrook, of slanderous and abusive language toward a court, to escape all punishment. The Philbrook bill is one of the most vicious measures ever passed by a Legislature, and it is to be hoped that Gov. Budd will have the courage and good sense to veto it self-appointed spokesman for "labor" declares that "the church is against the workingmen, and workingmen are finding it out; it is a noted fact in the East they are leaving the church." So far as work ingmen identify themselves with riot ing and murder, so far the church is, and must necessarily be, against them. The church stands for "peace on earth, good-will toward men.' cannot affiliate with nor approve mob violence in any form. It disseminates the gospel of peace, and is therefore enemy, or at least is not the friend, of brawlers and peace-break ers. In following its present leaders, "organized" labor is drifting into the dangerous shoals of lawlessness and crime. So long as it continues in this direction it must expect to alienate from itself not only the church, but decent, law-abiding people of every class and creed. Fortunately, how ever, the great mass of citizens who labor with their hands and heads are not organized law-breakers, but are peaceful-the bone and sinew of the country. The law-defyers are vastly in the minority in this country.

The wounding of Li Hung Chang by the bullet of a Japanese assassing will be an injury to the reputation of Japan, whether rightly so or not From any point of view the event is most deplorable. While the Japanese government is not morally responsible for the work of this assassin, the civilized world will regard Japan with somewhat different feelings than those entertained before the rash at tempt upon the Viceroy's life, Japan has not yet fully won her title to a position among the more enlightened nations of the earth, and this deplor able event will not serve to strengthen her in that regard. It is probable moreover, that the event will have some effect upon the pending peace ngotiations especially if the Viceroy's wound should prove serious. Speedy and severe punishment of the assas claimer that Japan can enter in the premises. He will probably lose his ead, whether Li Hung Chang's in juries be severe or otherwise.

The New York World has a cockand-bull story from St. Augustine Fla., to the effect that Gov. McKinley who is in the South, has announce indignantly that if the Republican party should declare for free silver would quit the party forever. Gov McKinley's statement on this subject, if he has made any, was probably qualified. Free silver may become practicable through the action of the international conference, though the ratio may not be 16 to 1. The World's story is evidently designed to place Gov. McKinley in the attitude of an implacable enemy of silver-which he is not. Like the majority of Republia use of silver as is compatible with the integrity of our currency system. It is pretty early in the campaign to begin to misrepresent Gov. McKinley. But the New York World is capable of misrepresenting anybody

Canadian farmers, according to the Canadian Trade Review, are realizing 3 cents per dozen more for the eggs which they export to the United States, under the present tariff, than they realized under the McKinley tariff. Montreal recently shipped ten one week. Under the tariff of 1883. Canada shipped $2,156,725 worth of eggs to our markets in one year. This enormous total was reduced by the McKinley tariff to $324,855 in 1893. There are some farmers who think that a protective tariff doesn't protect them; but they don't live 'along the Canadian border.

A prominent Mexican journal, El io, appeals to all the American countries to combine for the purpose of compelling Europe to keep her fingers out of affairs belonging exclusively to this hemisphere. Sooner or later, probably, it will come to this. The nations on the other side of the Atlantic are ready to send their warsouth, on the slightest pretext, and they assume to exercise a controlling influence, too often, in matters which concern the Americas alone. The plan proposed by El Patricio is similar to the plan which James G. Blaine had in view, but which he was unable to accomplish during his lifetime. The Monroe doctrine, though much talked about, has fallen som into desuetude of late years. Is not the present an opportune time to reassert and maintain it?

The San Francisco Call very truly ness of the world results from the persistent effort of an indolent minority to disturb the machinery of government constructed by an indus-"indolent minority" were more or less conspicuous at the recent session of the California Legislature. The repeal of good laws and the passing of bad laws to take their places has become a prominent feature of the leg-islation of recent years, both State and national.

There were imported at New York during the five months from September 1, 1893, to February 1, 1894, an aggregate of 1,620,426 dozen pairs of kid gloves. This was under the Mc-Kinley act. During the five months from September 1, 1894, to February 1, 1895, the imports amounted to 2,-372,836 dozen pairs. This large increase of imports came in during the son tariff, to drive out of our markets corresponding quantity of goods of domestic manufacture. It wasn't a very good season for kid gloves, Although Prince Bismarck's eightieth birthday anniversary does not arrive until April 1, his enthusiastic dmirers have already started the ball rolling, and they promise to keep it rolling until the venerable ex-Charcellor is ready to cry "genug." The churlish action of the Reichstag, in refusing to pass a congratulatory resolution, will add zest to the celebraion of his birthday rather than detract from it.

Mexican cattle, according to the Border Vidette, sell along the border at $5 to $12 per head, Mexican money, or $2.50 to $6 a head American money. There is an abundance of very fair cattle at $3 per head. It is needless to say that at these prices American cattlemen cannot compete with the Mexican product. It is also needless to say that the existing state of affairs is due to Democratic tariff blundering.

A special from Berlin to the New York World states that the chances of action by Germany, favorable to silver, at the coming international conference, are excellent. French and American co-operation with Germany will bring about the desired result.

A Small Youth's Retort.

(Harper's Young People:) The pompous schoolmaster sometimes finds himself in a position which is not entirely to his taste. A great English wit, Mark Lemon, once wrote a book in which he told of a chubby-faced little urchin who passed his conceited instructor upon the street without bowing. The schoolmaster stopped and frowned.

"What has become of your manners, sir?" he roared. "It seems to me that you are better fed than taught."

"Yes sir," replied the little boy. "That's because you teaches me; but I "feeds myself, sir."

"I should never think nowadays," said he, "of putting a man in possession of a really respectable house where there are women and children. I used to receive many complaints that men were rough and overbearing, but since I have employed women, most of them widows who have known trouble themselves, the testimony has been the reverse.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

ORPHEUM.-Vaudeville continues strong hold on the public taste as was evinced by the reception given the various features at the Orpheum last night by a features at the Orpheum last night by a big audience. The bill is an exceptionally strong one this week, and the various turns go with the most captivating dash and spirit. La Regaloncita and her clever and dainty sisters. La Graciosa and La Preciosa, do their novel dance that is rightly termed "a fairy ballet," and were encored last evening to the echo. These little tots enter into the spirit of motion as if they enjoyed it, and they are a most engaging attraction. Inlian Mason, who has talent as a descriptive vocalist, is apparently a strong favorite with the gallery gods. She rendered a number of new ballads last night for which she was generously aplauded. A striking feature of this week's bill are Prof. Giovanni's troupe of trained cockatoos, who do the most vonously aplauded. For instance, when't the tune "Wearing of the Green" strikes up the intelligent bird hauls up the flag of Erin, and to the strains of Yankee Doodle he pulls to the peak of the staff the Stars and Stripes. They are remarkable evidences of what dumb creatures can be trained to accomplish. Delaur and Debrimont sang a number of duetts with great spirit, and were repeatedly recalled. Adele Purvis Onri bourgeons upon the scene in scarlet fleshings, and goes through some difficult and graceful poses on the slack wire, does a neat turn at juggling on a large globe which rolls about the stage, and on the same shifting sphere does a beautiful bit of serpentine dancing. The Pasadena School Bonds Propose

The Pasadena School Bonds Proposed.

PASADENA, March 23.—(To the Editor of The Times:) Referring to proposed school bonds, of which mention is made in your Pasadena items of this date, may I say just a word? We all, I think, are ready to hold up our hands for more schoolhouses, and I believe bonds may I say just a word? We all, I think, are ready to hold up our hands for more schoolhouses, and I believe bonds may readily be voted to build them to the extent of $40,000 or $50,000, if need be.

'And I would suggest that the people be made to understand that they can have a chance to purchase these bonds, but that no one person will be allowed to buy more than two $500 bonds, or one $1000 bond. The man with a big sack should not be allowed to have a finger in this pie at all. All of our families would be interested in paying the bonds and the interest thereof. It would be a little better for them, and no doubt they would enjoy the privilege, if they could be allowed to put their spare change into a good school bond. Heretofore I would have been very glad to have had a bond or two when they were issued, but I could not get one. Why? Because the man with the big money sack had to be served first. That is too much the way with public affairs. The people are allowed to vote for bills payable and to pay them, but the one other fellow, or some one bank, must thave what cash profit there is in the business. This manner of issuing and disposing of bonds to build schoolhouses to furnish facilities for educating my children and those of my neighbors, does not agree with my neighbors in on with my views. I know some one will say we cannot sell the bonds in any other way. I don't believe it. Let us try once and see.

If I am not grossly misled as to what is the true sentiment of the people, the district will have more orders than it can fill.

I believe two or three schoolhouses should be built right away, but built with moneys so raised that we all may feel that it is strictly a home matter—a family affair.

According to the telegraph, also, it is said that Cleveland wall not interfere with England in the enforcement of her demand, unless she attempts to take possession of Nicaragua territory. If this is so, it is to be regretted, for American interests will suffer more by the bombardment of Greytown than wall that of any other country, for at this point, and subject to the direct fire of a man-of-war, is the property of the canal company.

It should be remembered, also, that Mr. Hatch was a mere consular agent, deriving his appointment from the Consul, and therefore not standing in the same dight in international law as a minister, or even a consul. A consular agent has not the same rights as a consul or minister, and is never looked upon in foreign countries as an official of much importance: He is hardly a step removed from any other citizen, and no country is called upon the harbor a person who is plotting her downfall.

It is necessary to understand to some extent the condition of affairs that has ex-

Until President Zelaya became the execu-tive of our sister republic, Bluefields had been under the domination, to all intents and purposes, of the Mosquito tribe, but directly under the control of some Ja-maica negroes and a few English subjects. These same officials have for years played battledore and shuttlecock with these Indians, using them as a foll against Nicaragua's securing possession of that section. For a great many years nearly all the revolutions that have been hatched in Nicaragua have seen light in Bluefields. The revolutionists have always been able to fand munitions of war at this point, the Jamaicans and Englishmen not caring who ruled in Nicaragua haven and Englishmen not caring who ruled in Nicaragua haven at the spoint, the Jamaicans and Englishmen not caring who ruled in Nicaragua haven and sections. war at this point, the Jamateans and En-glishmen not caring who ruled in Nicar-agua so tong as they were permitted to batten off of the wretched Mosquitos, mere puppets in their hands. Nicaragua would be infinitely more damaged if England were to bombard Corinto and San Juan del Sur, her Pacific ports. At the entrance to Corinto Harbor is Cardon Island, which is fortified, but not sufficiently strong to prevent a modern manof-war from capturing it.
England's threat to bombard Nicaraguan ports recalls a similar incident concerning Germany when the latter sent a manof-war to Corinto to enforce the payment of $30,000 as a salve to the wounded honor of a German Consul. Wall Street and Silver

Wall Street and Silver.

(Henry Clews's Circular:) Wall street the suggested international silver conference. It sees in the adoption of a world-wide policy of bimetallism the certainty of a material increase in the metallic money of the commercial nations, and assumes that, in such case, there would be a general rise in values and a consequent speculative boom of wide dimensions. At present, there is no real certainty about the calling of such a conference, but the probabilities seem to preponderate largely in its favor. At such a gathering, one of the gravest points of discussion must be the adoption of a reduced valuation of silver. What ratio between the two metals would satisfy the conservative European nations it is not worth while to speculate upon; but no doubt they would insist upon a material departure from the present standard of 15½ to 1. At this point it becomes a matter of much regree, that of the delegates provisionally to speculate upon; but in would insist upon a material departure from the present standard of 15½ to 1. At this point it becomes a matter of much regret, that of the delegates provisionally selected by Congress to represent this country in such a gathering, so large a proportion are strongly committed to the ratio of 16 to 1. Judging from their determined insistence on this point, it is not impossible that they might go to the length of presenting that as their ultimatum; though it is to be presumed that the President would put in his "instructions" some limitations upon their discretion. It is therefore desirable that public opinion favoring an international method of settling this question should make its influence felt as against any insistence influence felt as against any insistence tion. It is therefore desirable that public opinion favoring an international method of settling this question should make its influence felt as against any insistence upon the proposale which the European powers might be counted upon to reject. It needs some explanation why the silver leaders of the mining States so persistently insist upon free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1. They seem to be more than indifferent about different to a the ratio of 16 to 1. They seem to be more than indifferent about different to international basis would after different about the international basis would after different material to a silver would isolated national action. This must be clear to any man not blind from prejudice; indeed it is so clear that a large proportion of the friends of silver would probably reject free colonage upon any basis short of an international compact. Why, in the fare of these facts, do the mining leaders in sist upon national rather than international tends of the formational rather than international tends of the site of the section. international compact. Why, in the face of these facts, do the mining leaders insist upon national rather than international action? Their principal reason is that they are well aware that European co-operation would be impossible without the adoption of a re-valuation of silver more or less approximating the reduced market value of silver bullion. That, say the miners, would make impossible the complete recovery in the price of silver; which is the supreme object they, as producers, have in view. They are concerned solely with the value of the output; and considerations affecting the quality of money, which may appear important to many of their followers, have nothing to do with the solely industrial suprose which controls the raining imperest. They consequently insist upon a settlement that would enable them to get a dollar for 371.25 grains of silver, while other nations might insist upon valuing the metal as possibly 450 to 500 crains to a dollar for 371.25 grains of silver, while other nations might insist upon valuing the metal as possibly 450 to 500 grains to the dollar. Here comes out the utter selfshness of the silver miners in oppos-ing international free coinage. It is the old story of blind selfshness—sacrificing a good bargain by demanding a one-sided contract.

Some Big Counties.

(Harper's Young People:) Between the Rocky Mountains and the Atlantic there are a dozen counties that contain more than five thousand square miles. One of these is Aroostook, the northeastern county of Maine, which has an area of 6800 square miles, but little less than that of the whole of Wales, and forty-two times that of the republic of Andorra. Another is Dade county, Fla., in which are the Florida Everglades. This has an area of 5800 square miles, which is about the same as that of Cherry county, Neb. In the State of Minnesota we find three counties, Beltrami, Itasca and St. Louis, each of which covers more than five thousand square miles. St. Louis county contains the city of Duluth, which has more than thry-five thousand inhablents. In Idaho we have two counties, Idaho and Bingham, which cover an area of more than ten thousand square miles each. Pecos and El Paso counties in Texas contain 16,000 square miles. Arapahoe county, Colo., has 5250 square miles, a part of which is made up of the area covered by the city of Denver. Routt county covers 6000 square miles. In Oregon are six counties, in Washingtor three, in Newada seven, and in California seven that have each more than five thousand square miles. ALL ALONG THE LINE.

San Diego county produces 1,000,000 2,000,000 pounds of honey annually.

A. A. Goodden of Sweetwater Valley, San Diego county, has a lemon tree which yielded thirty boxes of fruit in one season.

Oranges do well at Chula Vista in San Diego county. Peter Morse gathered 200 boxes of oranges from one acre of fouryear-old trees in a single season.

That fiend in human shape, the dog poisoner, is getting in his work at Santa Barbara. It is to be hoped that the wretch will be discovered and that, as the line runs in the "Mikado," the punishment will be made to fit the crime.

From Pomona comes the report of great quietness there in truit shipments for the East. This refers, of course, particularly to orange shipments, and the reason assigned for it is that the growers consider the prevailing prices too low.

A new discovery is announced from New York, by which, it is claimed, gas can be produced at 7 cents per 1000 feet. An imcorporation that can furnish gas in this city for seven times 7 cents per 1000 feet.

Corn shipments from Southern California to Northern California tell a big story, which "points a moral and adorns a tale." If those fellows up San Francisco way don't get a "move on" pretty soon, and make an effort to keep their pot boiling, 'we 'uns' down this way will be called on

The Board of Education was in a quarrelsome mood last evening, as appears from the report of its proceedings printed od thing, however, in laying on the good thing, however, in laying on the table for two weeks the Pitman resolu-tion, which provided for shortening the terms of the public schools. It would have been better, however, if the resolu-tion had been tabled for good. It should be permanents, shelved at the end of the two weeks.

doesn't take much stock in the projected Boynton bicycle railroad. It says:

Boynton bfcycle railroad. It says:

"We think there is more fiction than fact about the projected Boynton road, that is to girt this valley and whirl people about the country at a speed of a mile a minute. Such a road would prove disastrous to the business interests of San Bernardino. The share of trade from outside points that ordinance 157 has left us would find it as convenient to go to Los Angeles when one could make the round trip in a couple of hours."

Orange county may not be as vast in ing in to put on airs big enough to suit the vastest metropolis of ancient or modern times. It's all right Santa Ana. The mean things about your trying to outdo mean things about your trying to outdo Los Angeles, you seem to have lots of nerve and you don't propose to hide it away under a gunnysack, but, instead of that, making it known to all the world by showing the people you intend having the best-paved streets of any equally wellknown modern city.

A San Diego county man who feels tired, brings to mind the poet's saying:

The king commands us, and the doctor quacks us, The priest instructs, and so our life exhales,

A little breath, love, wine, ambition, fame,
Fighting, devotion, dust—perhaps a name."

It seems strange to read that up to yesterday morning there was a man living who came into the world when the Union was only four years old. David McCov who died at Redlands, Cal., yesterday morning, was that man, he being within two months of 105 years old when he died yesterday. As the Times correspondent relates, one of the incidents in the old man's life, that he used to recall with the greatest interest, was looking on the dead ody of Chief Tecumseh shortly after that celebrated Indian warrior was slain. He was the oldest pensioner in the United States. Now that honorable position is occupied by Hosea Brown of Grant's Pass

WANTED FOR GRAND LARCENY.

An ex-Convict Trying to Get Back to Prison

Detectives Hawley and Auble yesterday morning arrested Charles Pinard on the charge of grand larceny, the specific act for which the arrest was made being the theft of a bicycle belonging to the Fowler agency in this city. The wheel was left in front of a Main street saloon February 22, when Pinard came along and rode it away. He kept it hid in his room until the officers finally found it.

Pinard is an ex-convict, having been released from San Quentin November 2, 1894, where he served a three years' term for compelling his wife to enter a house of prostitution, while he lived off her shameful earnings.

Since his release from State's prison he has been consorting with thieves and gambiers, most of them, like himself, excanvicts. The evidence against him for stealing the wheel is said to be conclusive, and he stands a chance of getting another term in San Quentin. Detectives Hawley and Auble yesterday

A FAMILY PARTY.

Traveling Through the United States for Pleasure.

Sunday afternoon there arrived at the Arcade Depot a party of tadies and gentlemen who believe in taking life easily. They arrived in the private car Alma, and ere reaching this city visited Kansas City, Salt Lake, Portland, San Francisco and various points of interest in the northern part of the State. The party consists of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wright, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Lancashire, with their little daughter, all of Alma, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Knowlton of Sagniaw, Mich; and Mrs. and Mrs. H S. Ayer of West Newton, Mass.

Mr. Wright is well known in the leading commercial centers of the East, for not only has he accumulated a vast fortune in the lumber business, but as president of the Cincinnati, Saginaw and Mackinaw, and the Duluth, Mississpip River and Northern railroads, he has been brought into contact with leading men from every section of the country, and has acquired varied interests as far south as Texas, north as Montana, and hods property in several cities in the East and West.

After Mr. Wright had accumulated a sufficiency of this world's goods he looked around for a reasonable way to spend it and he, rather oddly, found a new way in which to sink some hundreds of thousands of dollars. Passing by chance through a clearing made in the Michigan forest, made long years before when he denuded it of the timber, he was struck by its pretty location. He determined to build a town. That seemed a rather, wholesome way of doing things, but Mr. Wright came pretty near doing it. He built a short railroad; then he threw $150,000 into a hotel that is today a wonder of that part of the State. That formed the nucleus of what today is the pretty little town of Alma, in the State of Michigan. Not content, Mr. Wright determined on a further expenditure, and built a sanitarium that attracts people from all over the Union. The initial cost was $300,000. That was good as a starter, but since then—in the year 1886—large sums have been lavished on this pet idea of Mr. Wright.

The private car Alma in which the party is travelling at present is ordinarily at the disposal of invalids who are unable to travel in the usual manner. In its contains kitchen, observation rooms, mai

That is What a Pomona Man Has to

The Times, in its last Saturday's issue acknowledged the receipt of a communi-cation from a citizen in Pomona, who de-sired that his name be not published, but cation from a citizen in Folmona, who desired that his name be not published, but who took exceptions to some statistical statements made in correspondence to this paper from that point. Since then The Times has received a letter from its correspondent who sent the matter from Pomona, and who furnished the information to which exception was taken. The Times correspondent writes:

"I have today called on City Clerk Garthside, Mayor Gallup and Trustee Grober, and they all say I can use their names in informing you that the figures and statements in the article complained of were all correct, except in two instances; one is a typographical error. It said that $8000 had been paid in interest on the school bonds. It ought to have read $2800. The other was that for the past year our tax rate was the lowest. It should have read, 'all things considered, our tax rate has been the lowest in several years,' etc.

There now remains nothing for the 'ex-etc. There now remains nothing for the 'excepting correspondent—who will not allow his name to be published—but to call on the three city officers quoted by the correspondent of The Times and have it out with them. The whole thing resembles a tempest in a teapot, raised on the eve of a local election. The matter objected to was statistical and business in character, and had no political aim, bent or purpose.

SUNRISE, not a sunset business is what we are doing. The Fiesta decorations in the interior of the store are the most elaborate and artistic that have been attempted in the far west. A great deal of this work has been done by the ladies in our employ; a great many of the plans were formulated by them and executed under their immediate directions; for this reason we feel proud of the work; each lady in the store has decorated one or more of the baskets for carrying the goods and the cash to the balcony. Over 2500 yards of Fiesta bunting have been used; over 2000 American flags are displayed; we have in the house over 60,000 yards of the Fiesta colors for street and store decorations; we are selling the only tri-color Fiesta ribbons in the city; these colors are the official colors of the Fiesta committee, and will be largely used for badges, streamers and for whips. Next Saturday evening we will entertain the city of Los Angeles with a grand promenade concert from 7 till 10 o'clock; this will be the commencement of the Fiesta, two weeks in advance of all others. The Fiesta will this year outrival the Mardi Gras of New Orleans; the store decorations will outrival anything ever attempted in America for a festival of this character. We cordially invite the public to visit our store and see the work that has been accomplished in two days time. A few days before Fiesta we will decorate the outside in the same gorgeous manner. using both the Fiesta colors and American decorations. The pace has been set; we hope to see it elaborated on by every store in the city. Let us all make the Fiesta the crowning glory of the good work that has been accomplished in the past by our Chamber of Commerce; in the meantime we are in business to sell goods as well as to make a show. The dress goods department is now in the front rank of all others as regards stocks, prices and assort ment. The silk department is showing a large lot of new goods. The new silk waists and separate skirts as well as new capes are the attraction in the cloak room. We are showing new muslin underwear and a complete line of new Royal Worcester Corsets.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

The City Engineer reported as follows:
"In the matter of the instructions of your body to present an ordinance of intention to construct a sewer on Kuhrts street, in East Los Angeles, I would respectfully suggest that it would be advisable to include the district tributary to Kuhrts street, as the Kuhrts-street sewer will be a main sewer, with a number of laterals. The cost should be distributed over the district. The streets upon which the laterals are to be located are as much in need of sewers as is Kuhrts street." Referred to the Sewer Committee.

"In the matter of the petition, No. 253, from Mary D. Cannon and others, asking for a change of grade on Shatto street from Vernon street to its western terminus, I find that the grade, as asked for, will make a cut of from fifteen to eighteen feet, and, from the conversation that this office has had with interested people, I do not think they want such a cut. I therefore respectfully return this petition to your body, to refer the same to the honorable Councillman from that ward, to ascertain if the petitioners want what they retition for." AT THE COURTAOUSE.

The Courts.

JUDGE CLARK AWARDS THE CUS-TODY OF A CHILD TO ITS FATHER. In Department Two yesterday afternoon he matter of the application of Gatzke for a writ of habeas corpus direct-ing his mother-in-law, Mrs. Clara Dorothy Rheude, to produce the body of his two ear-old child, Clara, came up for hearing before Judge Clark.

The petitioner, a tall and well built German about 35 years of age, was represented by Messrs. Davis & Rush, while the respondent appeared with Louis Luckel, Esq., as her legal adviser.

When the case was called Judge Clark at once inquired of Mr. Luckel upon what grounds his client declined to turn over the child to its legal custodian, its father. In reply the respondent's counsel stated grounds his client declined to turn over the child to its legal custodian, its father. In reply the respondent's counsel stated that the child's grandmother kept it in accordance with the dying request of its mother, and also because it was believed that it would be better off where it was than with its father.

Judge Clark speedily disposed of the first ground by stating that of course the request of its mother was immaterial, the father being the legal and natural custodian of the child, and intimated very broadly that the only ground upon which he would interfere with the father's custody would be that he was not a proper person to have it.

In view of this intimation Mr. Davis admitted that the child had been in its grandmother's custody for almost a year: that its mother died on March 7 last, and that Getske had not been allowed to contribute anything toward the support of either his wife or child since April 7 last, when they went to live with Mrs. Rheude.

It developed very early in the proceedings that there was a very bitter feeling Rheude.

It developed very early in the proceedings that there was a very bitter feeling on the part of the Rheude family against Getzke, and that the detention of his child was, to some extent at least, prompted by this feeling. The moving spirit in the matter was not so much the mother-inpulsed with scorn by Miss Rheude and her mother.

It was attempted, on the part of the Rheude samily, to convince the court that Getzke was a drunken reprobate, but in this they signally failed, for the principal witness against him in this respect, his former employer, E. C. Stoll, admitted that the only occasions on which he had known of Getzke's carousals were when in his company. It was shown, however, that he frequently drank too much beer while in Stoll's employ at the bottling works.

Upon the petitioner showing to the satisfaction of the court that he was able to support the child and that his mother and sister, who lived at Orange, were willing to take care of it, Judge Clark ordered that the grandmother turn it over to its father, who left the courtroom jubilant.

Judge Lucien Shaw rendered his de-cision yesterday morning in the case of Alice A. Hardy vs. the Bankers' Alliance, Alice A. Hardy vs. the Bankers' Alliance, which was recently submitted to him upon demurrer, ordering that said demurrer be sustained for the reasons given in the following brief opinion:

"In the consideration of the demurrer to the complaint the court must assume that the note given by the insured to the defendant was negotiable. The policy provides that the insured would contribute to the reserve fund a certain sum, 'either or a negotiable note.' The note referred to was given in pursuance of this provision of the pollcy.

"I am of the opinion that this note constituted 'an indebtedness due this association under the policy,' within the meaning of the third condition of the policy, the non-payment of which, at the meaning of the third condition of the policy, the non-payment of which, at the time it became due, rendered the policy void, as therein provided. If the note was different in any material respect from the note authorized, to be given and accepted by the policy, it might be contended with much force that it was not an indebtedness 'under the policy.' But no such departure from the terms of the policy appears or is claimed to exist.

"This being the turning question of the case, and it being deemed to be susceptible of no other solution than that which is fatal to the validity of the policy on which the complaint is founded, it follows that the demurrer to the complaint must be sustained."

NICHOLSON ACQUITTED.

NICHOLSON ACQUITTED. John M. Nicholson appeared before Judge Smith and a jury in Department One yesterday to answer to the charge of burginary preferred against him, he being accused of having broken into the chickenhouse of Dr. A. W. Corel, at No. 488 South Main street, in this city, on December last. A number of witnesses were examined for both prosecution and defense, the matter being finally submitted to the jury at 3:15 o'clock. One hour later that body returned a verdict of acquital, whereupon Nicholson was discharged. Smith and a jury in Department One yes-erday to answer to the charge of burg-

MATEO PA ACQUITTED OF THE MUR-DER OF MRS! PLATT.

DER OF MRS! PLATT.

In the United States Circuit Court yesterday the trial of the Indian Mateo Pa, charged with the murder of Mrs. Mary J. Platt, a schoolteacher, on the Pichango reservation in Riverside county, on September 20 last, was concluded, the defendant being acquitted in short order.

After some little rebuttal testimony had been put in by the government, the matter was argued, and finally submitted to the jury at 3:40 o'clock. Contrary to general expectation that body only remained out about twenty minutes, and returned a verdict of not guiky. The defendant, who accepted the result without any outward manifestation, as became an Indian, was thereupon discharged.

Helped Phoenix Celebrate and Took Dinner at the "Pacific Grotto."

PHOENIX (Ariz.,) March 24, 1894.—(Special Correspondence.) Whisperings of a vague and doubtful character were drifting about among the greasers and cow-boys in Phoenix to the effect that the ter-rible Apache "Kid" rode in the procession on March 12; took dinner in the town, and paid $10 for a Tansili's "punch" on March 12; took dinner in the town, and paid $10 for a Tansill's "punch" cigar.

Almost everybody said "its all a lie"—but subsequent history very nearly substantiates the story, and there are many who now have no doubts whatever but that "his nibs" of the sage brush rode within easy hailing distance of two battalions of Uncle Sam's soldiers throughout the entire line of parade.

It is claimed that he came into Phoenix the morning of the railroad celebration with some Mexicans; spent the earlier part of the day among some alfaifs bales in a grain yard; visited a half-hour with a certain blacksmith whom he knew at a military station (Fort McDowell) gave the aforesaid blacksmith a "twenty" in memory of "Auld Lang Syne;" took his dinner a la carte at the Pacific Grotto and nearly paralyzed a street vender by paying him $10 for a cigar and riding away without his change.

If N. K. Fairbanks of Chicago had only known the "Kid" was in town, he could have given the junketing party on the four private cars a season's benefit of hillarious excitement, which is simply unatthinable at the windy city's auditorium. The Times man attended the closing session of the Legislature here, which asted far into the early morning, and which eigendered a voluminous campaign of "cussin" that is still on—because of the failure to pass the appropriation bills. Many of the members on that night of strained relations showed the onlooker what folly it is to try to make a states— man curic account.

CONNOLLY CONSENTS

He Says He is Now Willing to Testify to the Whole World. Strong Enough to Do It.

ohn J. Connolly, 1533 1-2 Howard Street, Makes a Remarkable Statement, Which is Authenticated by Friends and Neighbors

I called at No. 1533¼ Howard street to find out whether Mr. Connolly lives there or not, as you desired, and I was amazingly impressed when I saw the gentleman, as he stated he was. Mr. Connolly said for a long time he had such sick, bad headaches and awful indigestion that he neadeches and awful indigestion that he despaired of ever getting well. He said he would wake up in the morning with a nasty taste in his mouth, a weary feeling, bloodshot eyes and his stomach completely filled with a second the stomach completely filled with a second to the second the second to the second the second that the second ing, bloodshot eyes and his stomach completely filled with gases; everything was blue to him. He was irritable; said he could not eat in the morning, and would not get hungry until about 11 o'clock, and that was just when he could not get his food, as he was compelled to work, and when he got to lunch what little food he did eat would so distress his stomach that he would become drowsy and weary all the afternoon, and all the while his sick headaches continued.

"As far as I can tell," said Mr. Connolly, "my liver was completely deranged, because I could feel the bile in my mouth in the morning, it was so thick and heavy. My stomach was all out of order, and my blood was impure, because there were always big red blotches or little patches of red over my body."

"Yes," said Mr. Connolly," I congiving my humble testimonial to the great and valuable remedy, Joy's Vogetable Saraaparilla. I wrote them some time ago. Here is a copy of the letter:

"Hearing a great deal of your Saraaparilla and being urged to give it a trial by my finded.

by my friends, as I was looking like a wreck and feeling horrhly miserable, I concluded to get a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. I did not believe that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla was any good.
As a matter of fact, when I commenced taking it, I did it just to please my friends, who were always nagging at me for not trying to help myself. Before using it I was troubled with indigestion, sleepless-ness, headaches, loss of appetite, and some-times too much appetite. One day I could eat a whole lot—the next day I could not eat anything at all. Whatever I did eat always seemed to stay upon my chest for three or four hours. I am now a perfectly well man, and I don't care who perfectly well man, and I don't care who knows it.

"I feel certain that I became well through the use of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. I used several bottles. I will always thank my friends who recommended it. All my sick headaches have left me, all my dyspepsia is gone, all the symptoms I complained of have entirely disappeared and I feel like a well man, and that is the reason why I don't mind if you put it in the papers.

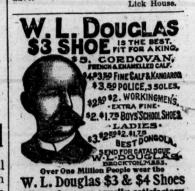

(Signed) "JOHN J. CONNOLLY, gn

After leaving Mr. Connolly with his words of praise for Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla I went to Mrs. J. L. Stanton, who resides at No. 1816 Bush street, and I asked the good lady what she thought of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. She said: "Of course you know I can't help saying a good word for Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, because the 'Home Remedy' Las done so much for me. I was always a nervous body anyway, but was more than usually nervous before I began to use the 'Home Remedy Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla.' I had been suffering from a disordered liver for some time. I could scarcely do anything without an effort. Everything was blue to me. Everything was blue to me. At times I had those weak fainting spells and dizzy feeling. I would sit on my chair as if chained to it. My blood was impoverished. What I wanted was a good blood medicine, with something for the liver and a toning up. Yes. I tried Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, and I must confess it has improved my health remarkably. I shall heartily recommend Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. I want to tell you," said Mrs. Stanton, "that when I first asked for Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla at the drug store a very pleasant-faced gentleman told me ht had something just as good, but, of course, you know a woman has her own mind; ahe won't be put off with smiles when you know a woman has her own mind; she won't be put off with smiles when-she says she wants Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. She must have Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and none other. So I told the drug clerk I wanted Joy's Sarsaparilla, and he at last consented to give me what I wanted."

and he at last consented to give me what I wanted."

On my way from No. 1816 Bush street, where Mrs. Stanton lives, I called at a drug store and tried to buy a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla; the clerk brought the Sarsaparilla; the clerk brought the Sarsaparilla and also another which he said was just as good. I had to talk with him for ten minutes before I could get what I wanted. Amazed at this I determined to go to the company, and I saw the president, who told me that he had learned of some of the druggists trying to substitute another sarsaparilla, but he did not believe the drug stores were responsible for it. Possibly, he said, some of the clerks were interested in some other medicine. However, if you will write the matter up we will publish it. And so I have.

expert accountant, in reference to an examination mads by him of the books of the Public Library, in which he said:
"The books present the neatest and most business like appearance of any books kept in a public office that I have examined in a long time. A balance sheet has been drawn off regularly every month, and the balance March 1 is correct. Since May 31, 1893, it has been customary to make out a demand in the name of Tessa L. Kelso for numerous incidental expenditures for the library, and also to pay numerous bills of Eastern publishers. I have examined these vouchers up to date and find they all agree with the demands. The demands made out to Miss Kelso, outside of the regular salary demands, are as follows: Incidental expenses from May 1, 1893 to March 1, 1895, twenty-two demands amounting to $1276.60; book bills from May 1, 1893, to March 1, 1895, nine-teen demands, amounting to $10,612.85."

And, furthermore, the board tenders to all its present staff of employees its sense of satisfaction for the zeal and efficiency of all of the employees in their respective positions. The resolution was adopted.

RETIRING PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS. president of the retiring board of directors of this library, whose term of office has expired, he took pleasure in formally surrendering to the new board, now present the property of the library, the title to which vests in the board and its succeswhich vests in the board and its successors in office.

"The occasion is one of rather more than ordinary interest, especially to those whose time has for some years been devoted to the building up of the institution which has become such a source of pride to Southern California, and, I might add, to the whole State," said he. "Six years ago, I and my present colleague, Mr. Howard, were asked by Mayor Hazard to form part of the board, which, under the charter then just going into effect, was to conduct the Public Library. At that time the ilbrary consisted of about five thousand volumes, including a quantity of public ter then just going into effect, was to conduct the Public Library. At that time the library consisted of about five thousand volumes, including a quantity of public documents and a dilapidated assortment of general literature. We spent fully $10,000 the first year on books alone, and the amount of labor involved in that and succeeding years, in endeavoring to make the funds go as far as possible, may be imagined, but cannot be described. The Book Committee and the librarian were first supposed to be omniscient in the domain of literature, and then to be all-powerful in their ability to procure with the limited funds at their disposal a fair selection in each department of circulating works, besides a collection of books of reference for the use of students. Practically the library, as it stands today, with over forty-two thousand volumes, not counting some thousands worn out and discarded, is the result of a laborious selection made by the Book Committee and the librarian, and naturally involving the expenditure of a large amount of time and the use of some knowledge of books. "There are now about nineteen thousand active members of this library, and the enection made by the Book Committee and the librarian, and naturally involving the expenditure of a large amount of time and the use of some knowledge of books. "There are now about nineteen thousand active members of this library, and the circulation of books last year amounted to nearly half a million. These figures show a wonderful growth from the small beginnings of six years ago, and the growth is still going on at a rate that may well cause anxiety for the future, unless something be soon done to prepare for the emergency. Indeed, the problem which confronts you, gentlemen, who for the coming two years will have charge of the ifbrary interests, is to provide for satisfying an ever-increasing demand on the part of the public, when the resources and accommodations at your command are already taxed to their utmost limit." Some easy talk has been made on the outside about the necessity for cutting down the expenses of this library, but, in the first place, you will find that, compared with the enormous sums spent on the other departments of the municipal government, the appropriation for library purposes is insignificant. In 1893 this city expended for general purposes $1,189,525.10, of which $18,661.70 was devoted to the library. In 1893 this city expended for general purposes $1,189,525.10, of which $18,661.70 was devoted to the library. In 1893 the city disbursements were $1,098,353.47, of which $20,139.67 was spent upon the Ehrary. Out of these amounts so appropriated for library use you will find that the present board expended for salaries and running expenses in 1893 the sum of $14,675.49, which was reduced in 1894 the city disbursements were $1,098,353.47, of which $20,139.67 was spent upon the Ehrary out of these amounts so appropriated for library use you will find that the present board expended for salaries and running expenses in 1893 the sum of $14,675.49, which was reduced in 1894 the city disbursements were $1,098,353.47, of which $20,139.67 was spent upon the Ehrary to be cents on $100 of the brary. One thing is always overlooked by outsiders who undertake to make criticisms upon expenditures, and that is that the library is kept open twelve and one-half hours every week day, which involves the payment of something over one and one-half days' wages for every working day of eight hours. Expenses might be cut down by closing the library evenings, but no board has yet had the courage to try such an extreme measure.

"The present Council has sanctioned an appeal to the citizens to vote for the issuance of bonds to the amount of $50,000, to be expended in the erection of a tibrary building. This is the first practical recognition of several years' earnest work, and of the recommendations made in various yearly reports by the directors of this library. While the sum asked for, if voted, will not be sufficient for the purpose desired, it will afford the means to make a start, and I may express the hope that the members of the incoming board will use every effort in their power to secure the accessary vote for these proposed bonds.

"Now, a few words as to the system bonds.

"Now, a few words as to the system which governs the employment, rating the promotion of the staff of employees. When the first board took office six years ago, among the troubles it encountered at the start was the annoyance of being bestered at all hours by applicants and their friends who urged their claims for appointments. These claims were based mostly on the grounds of friendship, politics or bisiness influence, and seldom upon the fitness and ability of the applicant for library work. To be rid of this unjust annoyance and to do justice to the trust committed to its charge, the board instituted a system of examinations, and later, a library training class, the pupils in which were required to give six months' time gratitously to the library in the prozecution of their studies, and if successful nearship the sunderstanding being that such certificated pupils should have the prior right to employment. Under this system eighty-nine candidates have appeared at the entrance examinations, thirty-seven have been accepted, and twenty-four have been successful in obtaining certificates; fifteen of these are now employed on the library staff. One graduate of our training class is now in charge of the Redlands public library, and has received the warmest praise for her successful management.

the warmest praise for her successful management.

"The Los Angeles Public Library stands today as an acknowledged important factor in our educational system. It has grown to be regarded as an indispensable adjunct to the public schools, and through the hearty co-operation of the teachers it has achieved splendid results in assisting their every-lay work. This influence needs to be watched and cherished so that it may continue to be helpful. The library has also been the foster mother of many of the literary societies and associations that have been formed here for study and improvement, and in the intelligent direction it has been able to give to students of a large growth it has earned their warmest recognition."

The retiring board having withdrawn the new board met, and, after disposing of some preliminaries elected as its president Maj. George H. Bonebrake.

The newly-elected president spoke substantially as follows:

"I think the board for the honor, and feel the great responsibility today vested in me, in common with the other members of the board. We all recognize the superior ability which has been displayed by the management of the library in its growth from the smallest beginnings to its present cosmopolitan character. While criticisms may be expected it will be the purpose of this board to carry the library forward to its highest efficiency."

Before adjournment the appointment of committees was announced as follows:

THE ITALIAN COLONY.

FACTIONAL FIGHT WHICH BODES A DISRUTPION.

A Recent Election and How it Was "Worked"-The Different Stories as Given by Both

In L'Eco Della Colonia, the Italian newspaper of this city, of March 22, Signor Ugo Paladini, the editor, publishes an address "To My American Colleagues," in which he explains in clear and strong language the dispute in reference to an election that took place on the previous Sunday in the Sal Della Beneficenza on Buena Vista street. The occasion for printing this address is the fact, as stated to The Times, that erroneous reports of that election have appeared in certain American ewspapers of this city. Signor Paladini states that he does not believe any reporters from the American newspapers were present; hence the erroneous reports published, which he believes were carried to the offices of the American ewspapers by some concludes for that reason that the newspapers were deceived. He recites the cir-cumstances which led to the election, which was held for the purpose of nominating a committee to whose care should be entrusted the welfare of his in this city, and also to take the preliminary steps to organize a picnic for the first Sunday in June, the proceeds of which are to go to the relief of the poor. He approved the object and supported it in his paper, urging his countrymen to give a proof of their generosity. He, however, found himself forced to the conclusion that the words "beneficence" and "charity" were "simply a mask under which were hidden the devouring fiames of personal ambition." He maintains that the facts as developed at the meeting amply bear out his statement. He says the meeting was not enthusiastic, as was erroneously given out, but was in fact a threatenenig one, excitement running high. Frauds were detected in the polling, and unworthy expedients were brought to bear on the minority to carry the election. He says that strangers cast votes, which, in many cases, were duplicates; in fact, that the ballots. These statements are also made in a report by two of the judges who inspected the returns of the election. Signor Paladini publishes the

in fact, that the ballot-boxes were stuffed with tissue ballots. These statements are also made in a report by two of the judges who inspected the returns of the election. Signor Faladini publishes the reports of the judges, and states that they can be fully verified. Many Italians whose names were published in the election list have repudiated the use of their names. Among these are: Messrs. Secondo Guasti, Ferdinado Bessolo and G. Maggetti, who have tendered their resignations as members of the Italion Colony, in a dignified letter, which is also published. More than this, 300 Italians have signed their names to a protest against the manner in which the election was conducted, and this protest is also published in Signor Paladini's journal. The editor closes his address by stating that he leaves it to his American colleagues to judge in the matter fairly, believing that their sense of right and their acutenes will show them the truth of the matter and result in vindicating him in his statement. The editor also publishes a complete statement of the matter, in Italian, in the same issue. The whole trouble arose out of a dispute betwen two factions of the Italion colony; and the Protestants, for whom Senor Paladini speaks, maintains that the faction which resorted to the objectionable practices described, did so for the purpose of dini speaks, maintains that the faction which resorted to the objectionable practices described, did so for the purpose of carrying the election illegally for their side, and that they rejected a reasonable proposition to postpone the election until such time as a fair ballot could be secured. Instead of doing this, however, they manipulated affairs in such a way as to admit of the fraudulent ballots, which included many persons of other nationalities, and who had no right to vote in the Italian colony.

This statement of the case is made in The Times at request of certain Italian citizens supporting Signor Paladini.

THE OTHER SIDE.

As is evident, all, is not serene in the

As is evident, all, is not serene in the Italian colony in Los Angeles. There has been more or less friction between some of its members ever since the great Columbian celebration in October, 1892, which of its members ever since the great Columbian celebration in October, 1892, which ended so disastrously through an explosion of fireworks, killing several people and maiming a number of others. Damage suits are still pending against the committee having the celebration in charge, on account of that catastrophe.

The present contention seems to be over the position of leadership of the colony. There appears to be two factions, one headed by Signor G. S. Castruccio, a Mainstreet grocer, the other by Signor A. Vignola, a wine-dealer on Second street. Both are prominent in the business community and have hosts of friends, not only among their own countrymen, but among all classes of the population.

On the lith inst. Signor Castruccio, who is always foteroast in all public functions in which the colony is interested, secured the signatures of about thirty leading Italian citizens to a call for a mass-meeting of Italians on the 17th, at which it was proposed to organize for the purpose of celebrating the anniversary of the adoption of the Italian constitution, on the first Sunday in June next, the proceeds of the picnic to be held to be devoted to the aid of Italian citizens in distress.

According to a report, printed in a San Francisco Italian paper, read and translated for the reporter by Signor Castruccio, about 500 Italians were present at the meeting. Rivary for the office of president was spirited. Two tickets were in the field, one headed by Signor Castruccio, the other by Signor Vignolo. Signor Paldini, the editor of L' Eco Della Colonia, a local Rahan newspaper, was present and eloquently champhoned the cause of Signor Vignolo, who, he said, because of his white hairs and patriarchai position in the colony, should be honored with the office of president. Signor Vignolo's aged mother just having recently died, he was unable to attend the meeting in person. His friends therefore attempted to postpone the election. A motion to this effect, however, was defeated and the election was proceeded with, resulting in a victory for Signor Castruccio by a large majority. Charges of fraud were made by the opposition, and Editor Paladini in the last issue of his paper poured bot shot into Castruccio and his party for the methods pursued by them at the election.

Signor Castruccio being questioned about the matter by a reporter of The Times, stated that Signor Paladini, who is a comby them at the election.

Signor Castruccio being questioned about the matter by a reporter of The Times, stated that Signor Patadini, who is a comparative newcomer here, started in to down him almost as soon as he struck the city. He championed the cause of Signor Vignolo in order to further his own interests, and finding that he could not run the colony to suit himself, he raised the cry of fraud. As a master of fact, said Signor Castruccio, whatever fraud was committed at the election was by the Palianini faction. Throwing out fourteen votes for him (Castruccio) that were alleged to be fraudulent, he still had a clear majority of forty-five.

Signor Castruccio is going right ahead with the preparations for the celebration. He has secured the pleasure grounds at Sycamore Grove for the first Sunday in June, and says the factional differences now existing will not prevent the Italians from celebrating their national holiday in a becoming manner.

Signor Vignolo was confined to his home yesterday by illness and could not be seen by the reporter.

This has become a favorite trip not only for tour-ists but for local residents bent on holi-day making, and this extra convenience is being afforded by the company at a nominal addition to the fare. AT IT AGAIN.

Allusion has hitherto been made to the fact that employees of the Southern Pacific show strong incilinations toward matrimony. Yesterday A. S., otherwise known as "Dap" Smith, showed at his deek in Superintendent Muir's office after a two week's absence on his honeymoon. Now there's another fellow going to do it, and the fever seems to be epidemic, for this time it is a young fellow down the road. George L. Curtis, who has been operator at Mammoth Tank, has announced his intention of taking a vacation at the beginning of April for the purpose of donning the sober habiliments of a Benedict.

Within the last few days the stock of he Santa Fe has not only displayed signs of recuperation, but, comparatively speaking, of a very substantial increase. This is reported to be the result of the acceptance of the plan of reorganization by the foreign bondholders. Formalities have not been completed, but a unanimity of sentiment has been arrived at, and at present it looks as if the financial troubles of the system were about to be finally and definitely straightened out. The plan of reorganization has not been made public, but from several sources some details are being furnished with what purports to be good authority. It is said that a syndicate has been formed to underwrite the $10,000,000 assessment on the Santa Fe Company's stock, proposed by the reorganization plan. Foreign capitalists stood ready to underwrite the entire sum, but it was thought best to reserve part for this country. The interest of the American bankers is said to represent one-third of the whole. Amsterdam also subscribing liberally.

The auxiliary roads—the Atlantic and Pacific, Colorado Midland and St. Loui and San Francisco—will be treated hereafter. The plan thus far completed has been approved by the American, the London and the Amsterdam committees. ORANGE SHIPMENTS.

The shipment of oranges to the Eastern markets shows no sign of increase, albeit growers opine that within a very short time now the imported fruit, which temporarily glutted the market, will have been absorbed. While it has been, in some instances, inconvenient for growers to hold the fruit over, there is no reason a more that in the low to suppose that in the long run any loss will accrue to them by the in sale.

WAR OF WORDS.

Lively Meeting of the Board of Education.

Gymnastics and Oratory Expended Over the Appointment of a Census Marshal.

Report of the Superintendent-Som Recommendations Made-A Financial Showing-Routine Business.

There was a wordy war at the meeting of the Board of Education last evening that beat the lastest mode of conducting a prize-fight. Fierce and long the battle raged. Motions, amendments, resolutions, contradictions, flew like bail. The board jumped up and down and raged; the presi dent tore his hair distractedly under t mental pressure of being obliged to co sider about sixteen motlons, with their various amendments, at once: the audience alternately roared with laughter at the ex-traordinary antics of this dignified body, and relapsed into smothered yawns when the proceedings showed every indication of lasting until the Day of Judgment.

A committee of boys from the High School was present and drank in much useful knowledge concerning the idea of par-liamentary proceedings held by these elders, and various claimants and complainadded their quota to the general tow

President Hale called the meeting to or-der at the usual time, and quiet reigned while the minutes of the last meeting were

Then the fun began. Applications by A. B. Whitney and D. Jones for the position of school census marshal were read; Mr. Garland submitted the name of J. W. Myers, the present marshal, as a candle date for the position; Mr. Grubb jumped up and tried to move something else, but was promptly squashed for the first and only time during the session by the announcement that the election would be made by impartial ballot.

He bobbed up serencly, however, with the proposition that C. B. Dandy, secretary of the Board of Education, be appointed census marshal, as he offered to do the work without extra pay, and that meant saving from $100 to $200 at a time when money was a great consideration.

was a great consideration. Garland then came into the arenz with a sarge and well-developed objection on the score of false economy, and that the secretary, being already overworked, had no time for the duties of census marshal. J. W. Myers was efficient and satisfactory, and ought to be appointed.

A little sparring in the way of indistinguishable motions and counter-motions be-tween Mr. Garland and Mr. Simonton, re-sulted in Mr. Simonton coming up to the surface with the name of A. B. Whitney surface with the name of A. B. Whitney flourishing as a banner, although he saw no impropriety in the secretary assuming also the office of census marshal.

The marshal had constantly to confer with the secretary, and last year the latter had rounded up over 1500 children who would otherwise have been left out of the count.

Mr. Fulton then rose to the occasion with a long dissertation upon social problems, and the evil of establishing a wrong precedent in the matter of permitting one man to do two men's work, and showed a tender consideration lest Mr. Dandy should hurt himself by overwork that was beautiful to behold.

Deputy Syperinten tent Foshay edged in a word at this juncture, and tried to pour oil upon the troubled waters about the matter of the work having been done in the secretary's office, but without avail; for Mr. Garland and Mr. Somonton induged in a few more compliments, and Mr. Myers himself plunged headlong into the battle, and, leaning over the railing which surrounds the sacred preclicts, proceeded to give the unfortunate Mr. Dandy particular fits for having "given away" the fact that, in last year's nose-counting, he had missed 1634 of the rising generation of Angelenos.

Dr. Wills, Mr. Pitman, Mr. Grubb and Mr. Garland then divided the honors in a general free fight about how to vote and for whom, while the others skirmished an and out ad lib. Finally, votes were taken, and resulted in 6 for Dandy and 3 for Myers.

Mr. Kennedy moved to stop the row and get the next business before the board, but was drowned out in a flood of words. At last, when everybody was breathless, the motion was permitted to come before the house, and was carried, an assistant being allowed to the marshal.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT. The superintendent then submitted th

"First—No children below third grade can volunteer.
"Second—Participation in drill and parade must be entirely voluntary upon the part of pupils and teachers.
"Third—The fifteen minutes devoted to morning recess and the fifteen minutes usually given to calisthenics may be used to furnish twenty-five minutes of drill time, from 10:15 to 10:40. No time must be taken from any study except calisthenies.

"Fifth—Pupils not participating in the drill must not be interrupted in other work.

"The school committee of which the Superintendent is a member is insisting that the march must be less in length than last year; that teachers be excused from marching in the screets, and that every possible precaution be taken for the convenience of all participating. It is believed that these instructions carry out the entire spirit of the board resolution governing the preparations for the parade, the march must be provided for the parade, the schools of the preparations for the parade, which has been forced upon the department by emergencies demanding immediate action. "As far as the pupils volunteer for participation in the parade, the department is preparing to take care of their interests in a way that will creditably represent the schools in the coming flesta. To this report of action, I beg. also, to say that it is the opinion of all in charge of the work that the giving of Friday, April 12 as a holiday, is unnecessary. I, therefore, recommend that school continue on that day as usual, but that the Superintendent be given latitude in appropriating more than the usual calisthenic time whenever needed for drill, during the last week before the fiesta.

"I also recommend that the Superintendent be given discretionary power to meet emergencies by special provisions not common school system, and in the apportionment of moneys are not provided for The State school law says we shall have emergencies by special provisions not common school system, and in the apportionment of moneys are not provided for The State school law says we shall have emergencies by special provisions not common school system, and in the apportionment of moneys are not provision for paying expenses. These eral conditions unfavorable to the execution of the policy for the administration of which I was called to this city. I beg to ask from you, and through you from the community represented, an early expression covering the following particulars:

"I. On assuming charge of these schools I found the community at a dead-lock on the question of furnishing adequate building accommodations, accumulations of difficulties, through several years of time, resulting in several thousand children being denied facilities for a common school education. At this dats there has been action, but little nearer relief than last September. Several months of valuable time have been lost; and there is absolutely no prospect of new buildings being ready for occupancy on the opening of the next school year.

"2. Our finances are in a deptorable condition, there being a demand for ready money at certain times of the year of at least $75,000 more than available. The opening of additional buildings, contemplated, will increase this demand to $100,000. This condition of affairs in a wealthy city like Los Angeles is perfectly inexcusable.

"3. The superintendent was called to this city for the express purpose of introducing industrial education in these schools. Up to this time there has been no opportunity whatever for even a consideration of the question.

"4. The superintendent has already called attention in Manual One, to the better recognition of the superintendent in the momination of teachers. The question frequently arises, what is the authority of the superintendent over the teachers of the city? In attempting to do any original work or to put in operation any movement for the improvement of the schools, it is absolutely necessary the superintendent should be the recognized head of his schools.

"I do not ask for a hasty reply to these questions for they demand calm delibera-tive consideration. But as the person charged with the responsibility of these schools, I do demand of this community some expression at an early date as to what help the superintendent is to have from this community in the building of a school system in keeping with the proa school system in keeping with the pro-gressive spirit of the age.

The time is now near at hard when there must be a satisfactory expression as to what can be done by this community."

The second division was received and placed on file.

TO INVESTIGATE THE SYSTEM. Mr. Pitman then moved the adoption of the following resolution:

the following revolution:

"Whereas, there has recently been introduced into the schools of this city by the superintendent, P. W. Search, what is known as the individual method, as laid down in manual No. 3, that it is a system entirely new to this city; and, whereas there is much criticism upon the same by the patrons, teachers and scholars, that the present Board of Education does not know present Board of Education does not know anything about the matter, nor its intro-duction into our schools, and in order that the matter may properly come before the board, and that it may be thoroughly in-vestigated in all its detail, plan, scope vestigated in all its detail, plan, scope and results, be it "Resolved, That a special committee of three be appointed to investigate the method, manner of teaching and the results of this new plan, and report the same with recommendation at some future meeting of this board."

Mr. Search ironically congratulated the board upon having satisfactorily disposed of the school-closing and other important questions and come to this one; but, afternuch argument, the motion to lay the resolution on the table was defeated and it was carried.

Mr. Search concurred in the statement of the Finance Committee and declared that the schools must be placed in such a condition that there will be adequate funds to meet all necessities in cash, so that teachers should not be obliged to go upon the street and market their demands. The report was then received and placed on file.

Bills to the amount of $43.60 were approved, and then Mr. Pitman's resolution as to the closing of the schols was opened up again, only to be once more laid on the shelf for another fortnight. He was not discouraged, however, but popped in this resolution.

"Resolved, that no bill for supplies or work or material of any kind, character or description be allowed until there is a requisition properly signed by the committee or chairman of the committee to which the matter properly belongs."

We would further recommend that the office of assistant janitor of the High School be abolished and that the incumbent be discontinued as an employee of the department. This provoked another big row, to which the combatants came up as fresh as paint, and as briskly as though all the previous proceedings had been characterized by a perfect harmony. After nuch recrimination and argument, the matter was firsthemic and pleaded his own cause so eloquently that the matter was finally referred to the Committee

Mr. Young appeared as representative of the students of the High School, and pleaded fervently for a longer term. After a good many suggestions and criticisms President Hale assured him that would do all in its power for the dents. Superintendent Search then announced Superintendent Search then announced that the State teachers' convention would meet in this city this next week, and suggested that a holiday be granted on Friday for the benefit of the teachers.

The committee of three upon investigation of the school system was then announced: Messrs. Kennedy, Pitman and Streeten.

For Selling Beer to Boys.

The trial of D. J. Lewis, charged with selling liquor to minors, began in Justice Owens's court yesterday. Several of the Westminster bell boys testified that they bought beer of Lewis which they drank at the bar, and were often furnished liquor which they carried to guests at the hotel. Lewis and his partner, Reece, admitted that they sold liquor to the boys for guests of the hotel, but not for themselves. They also swore that the boys represented they were from 18 to 21 years old. According to the boys own testimony their ages range from 14 to 16. One of the boys, Charles Anderson, on whose testimony the defense depended, was absent. A continuance was granted till the 29th, so the boy could be brought into court. The trial of D. J. Lewis, charged with Michael Luy, proprietor of the "Blazing Stump," was in the city yesterday and called at the Times office to protest against his place being called a "dive," which, he declares, it is not. He claims that in the granting of a saloon permit to him the Board of Supervisors should take into consideration that he donated to the county some considerable portion of his land for public use, and that he keeps an orderly place.

A Wise Mule.

(Rondout, N. Y., Correspondence New York Times:) Although mules are slow to act, it is said they scent danger as quickly as do horses and in instances are as cautious as shrewd elephants. John Smith of Rondout is the owner of a small mule that knows every inch of the towpath of the Delaware and Hudson Canal from Eddyville, N. Y., to Honesdale, Pa. Several years ago the mule was thrown into the canal by the line with which it was pulling its master's boat becoming snarled with the line of another boat going in an opposite direction. The animal came near being drowned, but its inherent subbornness probably saved it from such a fate. Since that time the mule has saved itself many times from being immersed in the waters of the canal by its sagacity and by keeping a level head beneath its long ears. During the working season whenever a boat passes by and the neath its long ears. During the working neath its long ears. Canalers call the mule "Little Solomon" on account of its being so wise. A peculiar trait of this mule is that it will stretch every inch of its skin to kick a man, but it will not lift its feet to kick a child. Recently a friend of Mr. Smith went to the latter's barn to look at the mule. On opening the door the animal caught sight of the stranger, and, backing up as far as its halter would allow, it began "pawing the air" with its hind feet. Had the roof of the barn been a low, flat one it would have been lifted from the rafters. A little boy was called into the barn and the animal at once became doctle and submissive, and allowed the child to pass under and around its legs in the most friendly manner. A redeeming feature about Smith's mule is that it never breaks out into a loud, rasping "bee-haw" in the night time when people are asleep. A mule like that in Rondout is a mule above price.

SENSATION IN THE WHISKY TRUST AFFAIRS.

Experts Report to the Receiver that the Greenhut Management's Accounts Were Juggled-A

CHICAGO, March 25.—A sensational report, was submitted to Receiver McNuita, of the Whisky Trust, today, by experts who for a month have been examining the books of the Greenhut management. Charges of juggling accounts, "doctoring" books and similar work are made, and the report asserts that the former directors and officers, by disposing of stock to them-selves, have left a discrepancy of $1,924,

The report states that 34,984 shares were sold by officers and directors to themselves at 45 cents on the dollar, and consequently almost $2,000,000 is due from them to the stockholders of the Dismiling and Cattleto consider the matter. There is little doubt that the experts' report will result n a hot fight between the present manage ment and the Greenhut people.

Stockton Sugarcane.

STOCKTON, March 25.—The experiments of growing sugarcane on the islands of San Joaquin county have been so successful that the government is now preparing to engage in the culture on a larger scale. Two tons of first-class cane came from the Hawaiian Island, and other sections will be used to make thorough tests of the lands hereabouts. The experts representing the Spreckels interests expect to see the sugarcane grown here contain more saccharine matter than any cane raised in this country.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrist.) The Evangelist says that the largest cross in the world now stands in Drake's Bay, North America. Three hundred and fourteen years ago the celebrated Sir Francis Drake landed in this bay, and his chapiain, Francis Fletcher by name, preached the very first English sermon ever heard in that region. To commemorate this event Bishop Nichols of California, and the late George W. Childs, caused a large stone cross to be erected 300 feet above the sea. The cross is fifty-seven feet high, of blue sandstone; several of the stones in it are larger than the largest stone in the pyramid of Cheops. This splendid monument can be seen far and wide, and is literally a sermon in stone.

DISCUSSION OF THE ELECTRIC LIGHT FRANCHISE.

The Lisk-Nettleton Wedding—Rev. Lloyd Jones Discourses on Emerson and the Parliament of Religions.

PASADENA, March 25 .- (Special Corre ndence.) The most important matter discussion before the City Council to-was the subject of franchises in general, and the electric light franchise in particular. After this granting of the franchise to Mr. Groenendyke at the last meeting of the Council, Charles Glass inroduced a petition for a franchise, and requested the Council to advertise for bids for the same. This was held over for confidential weekl today and in principe the eration until today, and in bringing the declared that while it was the sense of the ancil to encourage competition, there were many arguments against encumbering the streets with poles and wires, and granting to three competing companies would naturally result in the stringing of three separate sets of wires over three separate sets of poles. He said he had seen informed that before the year is over, there will be a petition for a franchise for lighting Pasadena with electricity, generated from water, which would do away entirely with the erection of a powerhouse, and the company thus organized would be thus enabled to furnish to the city lighting at a much cheaper rate than any of the existing companies could possibly do.

would be thus enabled to furnish to the city lighting at a much cheaper rate than any of the existing companies could possibly do.

This brought up the subject of franchises in general, and it was decided that those to whom franchises were granted should show more respect to the power granting them the rights and privileges under which they existed as corporations. The electric railway was instanced, and President Cox declared that it would be proper to introduce into the next session of the Council resolutions inquiring into certain matters in which its charber had been violated. He stated that it was provided that cars should be run both on Raymond and Fair Oaks avenues, simultaneously, every afternate car to be on Fair Oaks, and that the taking of a single car around a loop, at long intervals, was not carrying out the provisions of the ordinance under which the franchise was granted. Other members of the Council had shown to the railway company, in extending the time for the completion of the road, and the running of their cars upon schedule, and it was broadly intimated that the patience of the Council had shown to the railway company, in extending the time for the completion of the road, and the running of their cars upon schedule, and it was broadly intimated that the patience of the Council hat Pasadens wanted the most scientific and the latest improved methods in averything, but specially in lighting and transit; and sil franchises should be granted with that view. It was moved by Mr. Washburn that bids for the frangranted with that view. It was moved be granted with that view. It was moved by Mr. Washburn that bids for the franchise, as proposed by Mr. Glass, should be advertised for.

The protest of the property-owners on Garfield avenue was received by the Council, and tt was decided to take up theft appeal from the assessment on street work Monday, April 1, and Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock to go in a body and personally examine the work in question, and satisfy themselves concerning the manner in which the contractors had performed it. The widening of Raymond avenue, from Chestnut street northward to the city limits, and its curbing and guttering was decided on, and all former resolutions concerning those improvements rescinded, while the new resolution of intention was introduced. Resolutions of intention affecting Fair Oaks avenue, Cypress, De Lacey and Congress streets, were also fureduced, and the ordinance granting the franchise to G. Groenendyke was read for the first time adopted.

A communication regarding storm-water on Orange Grove avenue, was referred to Trustee Washburn with power to act, as was also a petition from G. B. Hall, in relation to the erection of a corrugated iron shed. A similar petition from G. E. Lindsley, for the privilege of erecting a corrugated iron building, brick-veneered, was granted. A petition from the school trustees for the grading of Walnut street, was received. but which until now has never been the subject of petition, was adopted concerning the planting of trees upon Lincoln avenue. The resolution provides that the trees planted shall be fan palms, at least four years old and four feet high, planted along the avenue at intervals of twenty-five feet. This was declared an example that might be advantageously followed in other portions of the city where there are no shade and ornamental trees planted along the street.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, there was a pretty home wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lisk on Lincoln of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lisk on Lincoln avenue, the contracting parties being Miss Minnie Lisk and Mr. Albert Nettleton, of South Pasadena. Promptly at the appointed time, the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by the sister of the bride, ushered in the wedding party, and the bride and groom took their risces under a floral bell where the pastor of the North Congregational Church, Rev. Henry T. Staats, awaited them, to pronounce the words that bound them together for life. The bride wore a silver-grey silk gown, and carried a bouquet of white roses. All brides are supposed to be beautiful, but this one has been accounted one of the belies of Pasadena, where pretty girls are the rule. The guests were limited to the relatives and most intimate friends of the young couple, and the presents were numerous and costly. After partaking of an elegant collation, the newly-married pair went directly to their new home, No. 1011 West Second street, Los Angeles, which completely furnished for housekeeping, awaited their occupancy, and there they will be at home to their friends after April 15.

Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, the eminent preacher and lecturer, spoke at Universalist Church Saturday evening, and again Sun-Church Saturday evening, and again Sunday evening, taking "Emerson" as the subject of his former discourse, and "The Parliament of Religions, What Next." for his Sunday evening subject. Both efforts were literary treats such as are seldom effered in Pasadena, and both were heartly appreciated. In talking of Emerson, Dr. Jones paid a high tribute to the moral force of America's great intellectual genus, and showed how his writings from the very first were permeated with noble ideas, fettered by no narrow limitations, and hampered by no creed. He declared that his "transcendent genius, of spiritual insight, of the seer and philosopher who looks beyond appearances and sees realities. He declared that his transcendentalism was that of transcendent genius, of spiritual insight, of the seer and philosopher who looks beyond appearances and sees realities. He quoted largely from Emerson's work, to illustrate points in his estimate of him, and barring a hoarseness of voice that rendered him at times almost unintelligible to the audience, the lecturer delighted all present. The hoarseness was accounted for by Miss Kollock, who prefaced her

Introduction of Dr. Jones to the audience, by telling of his arduous work in delivering twenty-three lectures in San Francisco. The address Sunday evening dealt largely with the oriental representatives at the Parliament of Religions, and anecdotes concerning them. Dr. Jones said that in that assemblage was a prophecy of what religion of the world would yet be.

Suit Against the Highland Insane Asylum Trustees.

Asylum Trustees.

RIVERSIDE, March 24.—(Special Correspondence.) A suit was commenced in the Superior Court Saturday afternoon last by the Newport Lumber Company against H. L. Drew, J. A. Gibson, I. K. Fisher, George Cooley and Frank A. Miller, trustees of the Highland insane asylum; F. W. Richardson, treasurer of the board, the firm of Dewar & Chrisholm, and the Farmers' Exchange Bank of San Bernardino.

The action is brought to collect $6654, the amount alleged to be due as a balance for lumber furnished Dewar & Chrisholm in the construction of the new wing of the asylum. The complaints set up that there was due the plaintiff a sum on contract March 18, 1895; that plaintiff notified the trustees of their claim for material, but that the trustees paid a part of the money to the Farmers' Exchange Bank, as assigned to pay over the balance, and asks that an tanuction issue restraining the trustees. to the Farmers' Exchange Bank, as assignee of Dewar & Chrisholm, and threatens to pay over the balance, and asks that an injunction issue restraining the trustees from paying over the balance. A judgment against Dewar & Chrisholm for the $6654 is alsa asked, and that plaintiff has a lien upon the amount still unpaid by the trustees on the contract, and that Richardson be required to pay plaintiff what is now due, and that the Farmers' Exchange Bank be compelled to turn over to plaintiff the amount paid to it. Judge Noyes issued the injunction prayed for, pending the trial of the case.

The remains of the wife of Hon. E. W. Freeman arrived at South Riverside on the noon train Saturday. Assemblyman Freeman and Frank A. Miller of Riverside accompanied the remains from Sacramento. They were met at the depot by the court of the Independent Order of Foresters of South Riverside, of which Mrs. Freeman was a member, and which organization formed an escort to the Baptist Church, where the funeral services were held at 4 p.m.

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The Orange County Teachers' Institute opened in this city teday (Monday,) the first session being called for 10 o'clock in the Congregational Church on North Main street.

The school "marms," and the school marms the school marms to the school marms to the school marms.

Main street.

The school "marms," and the school masters from all over the county were present, from the dashing young girl, earning her first money in teaching the little-fellows in the district school, to the veterans whose shoulders were stooping and whose locks had silvered with gray in the worrying of a life of forty years in the school-room. They were all there and ready for business when Superintendent Greely of the county schools declared the first session open. He then, after a few well-directed remarks, introduced Prof. Earl Barnes of Stanford University, who occupled the first period of the morning with the subject of child study. He referred to the work done in that line throughout the United States for the past year, showing the great amount of interest taken in it. Charts were presented to the institute showing the results collated during the past year in Orange county on children's inferences, and comparisons were made between the children of Orange county and those of Stockton and vicinity.

After a short intermission, Mrs. Mary Sheldon Barnes of the Stanford University, occupied the remainder of the forenoon with a most excellent talk on the "Historical Sense in Children." Her remarks were illustrated by a number of charts, showing the results arranged from examinations of several thousand children, and as the of several thousand children, and as the charts presented the relative amount of historical sense in boys and girls, their comparative interest in regard to time, cause and effect, their comparative power in regard to reasoning, and their comparative sense of evidence, the talk was made of exceptional interest.

In the afternoon the hosts again assembled when Prof. Perham of the city schools took up the following topics, based upon McMurrey's general method, relating to professional reading, for general discussion by the teachers:

Following a liberal discussion on the above topics, Prof. Barnes again talked, this time on "Education in Ancient China," which proved to be an historical study with applications of today, and Mrs

Barnes followed on "The Realities of His-tory and How to Use Them." In the evening there was a reception for the teachers in the parlors of the Brunswick Hotel. PUPILS EXHIBIT WORK. The parents of the pupils of the public chool and all friends of education should

The parents of the pupils of the public school and all friends of education should not fall to visit the two central school buildings during the next day or two to examine the grand display work of the pupils, from the little tiny tots in the primary department, to the young ladies and gentlemen in the High School. As a rule parents take too little interest in what their children are doing at school leaving sometimes the matter almost wholly to the teacher or teachers under whose instructions the boy or the girl is laboring, and knowing nothing themselves of the real progress that is being made. A visit to the two central school buildings will apprise parents of what is going on in the public schools, but few of them having an idea of the volume and the excellent character of the work that is being constantly turned out.

In the new central building the central grammar school exhibits work in history and geography under the instructions of Miss Morrison. This work constitutes memory maps, drawn without any guide, illustrating different periods in American history. Miss Crew also exhibits work in the same line with the addition of modeling in relief maps. Miss White exhibits drawings and maps, showing the distribution of animals, plants and inhabitants on the globe.

Across the hall Miss Stowell exhibits drawings and maps, showing the distribution of animals, plants and inhabitants on the globe.

Across the hall Miss Stowell exhibits uncorrected work in English. Miss White in the same room has drawing and Miss Cleaver of the First-street grammar school shows English in the fifth and sixth grades. Upstairs Miss Cora L. Williams of the High School, exhibits work on the board in solid geometry in the different classes. Here also is work in note books and composition. Prof. Norrish shows work in the grammar school in representing theorems and problems.

Prof. Wood was found as happy as a lark in his scientific department. He shows work in botany, zoology, physics and chemistry. The work in botany was drawn from nature, the drawings on the board being in every instance from observation of the objects themselves. In the chemistry department the apparatus was being used in the manufacture of chlorine gas, sulphur acid and other gases. The electrical apparatus is especially attractive, and the professor says that a number of the pupils are showing exceptional ability in electrical work.

Miss Aldrich exhibits note-book and composition work, while Miss Hubbard shows Latin and German in the same manner. In the old school building the primary teachers, consisting of Miss Bisby, Miss Purley. Miss Hamaker, Miss Hall and M. S. The work in all of the primary departments, as well as in the grammar grades, reflects credit upon both teacher and pupil, and is well worth the time of any parent or friend of education to visit the two central school buildings and examine the work for themselves. The exhibit rooms will for the next two days, Tuesday and Wednesday, be open both in the forenoon and afternoon for the accommodation of visitors.

Much surprise is expressed by our people at the attitude taken by the City Council in refusing to make an allowance to cover the medical bill incurred by Mr. Dowell for injuries received while arresting the Ignacio brothers. The Council decided that it had no legal warrant to draw money for any such purpose. How about money for any such purpose. How about the hiring of a special officer while Officer Knightly was sick last year, and special appropriations made for other worthy ob-jects?

Engine No. 7, which is used as helper on the Santa Fe route, broke loose and ran away at Summit Station about midnight last night, and ran down grade at a fearful rate of speed. The engine got out of repair and the engineer could not shut off the steam or reverse the brake, and becoming frightened, the engineer and fireman jumped off. The engine and tender soon gained great speed on the down grade of 150 feet to the mile. The tender, fortunately, jumped the track, and acting as a brake, brought the engine to a standstill after running six miles, tearing up the track for over 1000 feet. Had this not happened the engine might have caused great damage at stations further down the line. When the engine was found the wheels were still making ninety revolutions per minute.

REDLIANDS.

REDLIANDS, March 25.—(Special Correspondence.) At 12:30 o'clock this morning, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. T. Morris, in Mission Precinct, about three miles west of Redlands, occurred the death of David McCoy. He was 104 years, 10 months of age. The deceased had been confined to his bed for about two morths, at first suffering from a severe cold, but to cannot be said that death came from any it cannot be said that death came from any REDLANDS. it cannot be said that death came from any cause other than that of old age. residence, at 1 o'clock, Tuesday afterrison.

David McCoy was born in Burke county,
N. C., May 2, 1790. When he was about 6 years of age his father, Hugh McCoy, who was of Scotch descent, left home to pay a visit to Scotland, and was never again heard from. In about 1804 his mother moved to Casy county, Ky. Mere
Mr. McCoy was married to Miss Lueintha Davis, daughter of Robert Davis. As the result of this union seven children were born, two girls and five boys, one of whom died in childhood. Later, Mr. McCoy moved to Indiana, settling near Greencastle, and lived there for about twelve years. He then went to Osage county, now Maries county, where he also resided for about the same length of time. From there he went to Iowa, but after two years' time went to Iouis county, Mo., where he spent the following thirteen years. In the spring of 1863 Mr. McCoy came to Sacramento, Cal., and in 1866 moved to Crafton, San Bernardino county, residing there five years. Again Mr. McCoy returned to Louis county, Mo., where he resided until 1884, when he returned to the Golden State. He spent a year in the city of San Bernardino, and then moved to Old San Bernardino, where he has since lived.

The deceased's wife has been dead about forty years. Four children survive him

Mr. McCoy's occupation has been that of a farmer. He was a soldier in the war of 1812, and always told with pride of seeing Chief Tecumseh soon after he was slain. He has never used tobacco nor liquor of any kind. He never drank tea nor coffee, until twenty-five years ago, when he acquired the habit of drinking coffee. But not only was Mr. McCoy temperate along these lines. Many times he has been known to get up from the table hungry because he claimed he had eaten enough. He usually retired between 7 and

SAN DIEGO, March 25.—(Special Correspondence.) President George W. Marston of the Y.M.C.A. presided at a massmeeting at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday and outlined the plans for a larger work of the association, which are now under way. As previously reported in The Times, the Y.M.C.A. is to occupy the entire second story of the Grant building soon to be built at the corner of D and Sixth streets. About $2500 of the $4000 to $5000 necessary to meet the year's expenses, including the furnishing of the proposed new quarters, has been secured, and the prospect is bright for securing the balance needed in the near future. J. L. Speares, State secretary of the Y.M.C.A., addressed the meeting. He said that there are 4000 Y.M.C.A. associations in the world and 1400 in the United States shone, where the growth has been the largest. The Rev. P. E. Kipp also addressed the meeting.

Mayor Carlson has returned from Arizona by way of Sacramento, and will continue to talk up the San Diego and Phoenix Railroad at a mass-meeting tonight. The morning paper romarks that "it is astonishing how bad luck follows every effort to secure consideration from the State for this county.

If they (San Piegans) heart to rely more on themselve's and less on the outside world, these disappointments will not have been wholly devoid of benefits. Meantime, the norms school being lost, or its establishment deferred, San Diegans should apply themselves to the task of bettering their own condition by reasonable means here at home."

An observing citizen remarks regarding this editorial: "One of the first steps toward bettering our condition here would be to encourage the morning paper to publish the truth about San Diego instead of persistently publishing falsehoods. The repeated untruths published by this morning paper have caused reputable business men, such as George W. Marston, Philip Morse, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and others, to protest against the unfair attitude and expression of a newspaper, which asks this community to support it. "We will accept," they say, "merited criticism and endeavor to profit thereby, but when one of our citizens uses his newspaper to gratify his personal spite by circulating falsehoods it is considered worthy of public rebuke. The belief is that the first step toward bettering our condition is to have a local newspaper which will print facts and not falsehoeds. At present we have to look to newspapers published outside of this city for fair, impartial reports concerning our local affairs. Honesty is the best policy for the morning paper, which urges the readers it maligns to take steps to better their condition. San Diegans yearn to have this morning paper tell the truth."

I once stopped at a fine botel
In a large Southern city;
Accommodations did excel,
The rooms were snug and pretty;
The table was magnificent,
Had every dish in season;
The service too, was excellent; The service, too, was excellent; The prices were in reason.

The house was widely advertised, And, therefore, known all over, And stopping there was recognized As living quite "in clover."
The rooms were always occupied, The place was crowded dally, And every guest was satisfied, Enjoying life so gayly.

But once, when I arrived in town,
The house seemed rather "roomy;"
No guests were stroiling up and down,
The manager was gloomy.
I asked him who was dead, and why
This stillness so surprising?
And suddenly he made reply—
"We've stopped our advertising!"

The Burns family, consisting of the parents and nine children, has long been complained of by people living in the neighborhood of Eighteenth and Bush streets, where the Burnses reside in a dilapidated shanty. Burns, who is a cement worker, does not seem to have regular employment and the family has been receiving almost constant assistance from the Associated Charities. It is not their poverty that the neighbors complain of, but their offensive conduct and filthy surroundings. It is alleged that the parents roundings. It is alleged that the parents of the children encourage them to inde-cently expose their persons and other-wise insult persons living in the neighbor-head.

The Mulkeys, who are near neighbors,

The result was the filing of the complaint of shoes, and taking more than ordinary pains to educate his trade to appreciate that kind of goods, he has built up a reputation second to none in this part of the State. When he announces, therefore, that for the purpose of engaging solely in the sale of men's shoes, he is going to close out and get rid of, in the quickest possible time, all his extensive and undeniably fine stock of ladies' shoes, and for that purpose has reduced the prices on them materially, he may rightfully expect to be believed. At all events such is the fact, and there will, from day to day, be bargains for shoe buyers such as they seldom have seen. It is a bona fide closing-out sale, and they will get really first-class goods at greatly riduced prices.

It is worthy of especial note that there is not only a stock high in grade and quality, but it is entirely new and up to date in strike. Among it all there is not a single pair of shoes that has not been bought since January 1, 1895. Let buyers think what this means.

against them, however, except that one of them had in his possession a device speciality invented for picking pockets. With the aid of this instrument, the "grafter" can reach into a man's pocket and abstract his purse a great deal more deftly than with his naked digits.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

Mrs. Frank A. Gibson and Mrs. E. T. Wright of Court street entertained about San Francisco, rendered delightful solos on the guitar, and also accompanied Mrs. Wright's songs. Later in the afternoon there were charming solos by Mrs. Judson and duets by Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Judson.

COTTON WEDDING. One of the most pleasant social events of the season was the celebration of the first anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and eventing.

Mr. and Mrs. Wightman have taken the house No. 234 West Twenty-fourth street, for three months, while Mr. Wightman is examining the national banks in the vi-

Once a year, at just about this time, W. A. Spalding, now State Commissioner of Building and Loan Associations, shows of Building and Loan Associations, shows that he remembers the workers in the hive where he once was a conspicuous colaborer, and he does it in such an acceptable manner, by sending to The Times two boxes of oranges—one for upstairs and one for downstairs. And such oranges! Finest in the world, and picked from his own orchard up in the foothills. Having been a newspaper man himself, Mr. Spalding will need no assurances that his thoughtfulness was appreciated and his fruit relished.

Lieut.-Gov. Millard's Condition.

L. Jacoby of Jacoby Bros., has returned from a two weeks' vacation passed at Infrom a two weeks' vacation passed at India. He reports that Lieut.-Gov. Millard is improving right along. He has during the past two weeks made great strides toward perfect recovery, having in that that time gained in weight three and one-half pounds. He weighs now only ten pounds less than before his illness. It amuses Mr. Millard greatly to read the many startling reports that he is so near death's door. He is certainly a very healthy looking "dead man."

1.A IISSTA DE LOS ANGELES.
In order to insure all possible convenience to the visitors to La Flesta de Los Angeles, a bureau of public comfort has been organized, and all hotels, rooming-houses or citizens wishing to rent rooms during the celebration can register at La Flesta headquarters, No. 137 South Main street, stating location, number of rooms to be rented and price for same. This information will be embodied in a pamphlet, under the seal of the Merchants' Association, and distributed throughout the city, and on all incoming trains. A small charge will be made for registration to cover expenses of the bureau. All registration subject to the committee's approval.
